GC mayor candidates may debate

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

With the April 2 election rapidly approaching, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler issued a challenge to his opponents Monday to meet him for several public debates.

"I think these debates will help better inform the public about the candidates and they will also allow the participants to air out some statements that have been made," Schuler said.

SCHULER POINTED out that plans for at least two debates currently are being made. The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Restoration Society both have contacted the candidates involved. The Chamber debate will take place March 11 at the Township Hall.

"He said he would also like to see other debate locations set up in various areas of the city. For instance, a debate located in the Sixth or Seventh Ward could be used to discuss problems that are inherent to that area—in particular the sewer breaks," Schuler said.

Other possible topics the mayor would like to see discussed include drainage and downtown improvements.

SCHULER'S CHALLENGE, however, was met with mixed reactions from his opponents.

Mac Warfield, superintendent of streets and a candidate for mayor, said that although he has agreed to the Chamber debate in principle—he will not make a final decision about his participation until he is aware of the topic and who the moderator will be.

He said he feels there are numerous topics worthy of discussion, such as sewer breaks and financial problems the city is facing. "There are a lot of things that could be debated, but I'd have to talk to the people involved before I made a commitment," he said.

ALDERMAN PAUL Ray Bowler said he was surprised by the mayor's statement. "I'm astounded that he would even call his statement a 'quote challenge,'" he said. "It's not much of a challenge when all of the candidates already have agreed to debate in principle."

As far as debating goes, though, "I'm willing to debate the other candidates on anything that involves the city."

Von Dee Cruse, Granite City Township assessor and also a candidate for mayor, agreed with Bowler, also saying that he doesn't feel the mayor hasn't issued any challenge. "He isn't promoting these things (debates)," he said. "Any one of the five of us could have made the statement he made."

"IF THE MAYOR called the Chamber or the Downtown Restoration Society and asked them to arrange a debate, then OK, he would be issuing a challenge. But I don't think he did that."

"This just makes it look like he (Schuler) is taking the initiative, but he's really not," Cruse contended. Cruse said he thinks the most important point to bring out in the debates is what he calls a need for "new leadership" in the community. "Three of my opponents had a part to play in where the city is today because of their years of service," he said.

"THEY TALK ABOUT wanting to lead the city, but where was their leadership when they were making past decisions about the future of the city?"

"It's time for someone to have some political courage. It's time for someone to vote for what is good for Granite City as a whole and not to vote to please special interest groups."

Cruse said he will be present at the debates. He also said he hopes things are conducted in a gentlemanly fashion. "Some of my opponents have been my friends for years," he said. "I hope they're my friends when the election is over," he said.

Mayoral candidate Edward Jeff said Tuesday that he will not be able to participate in any debates, since they will present a conflict with his work schedule. "Due to my job, I will be unable to attend these discussions," he said, "but I've been debating issues one on one with many of the residents of the city."

"THEY MAIN CONCERN seem to be what we can do to get jobs in the city and how we can help the elderly."

Jeff said he appreciates the consideration of the persons involved, however, because of the invitations he has received to speak publicly.

Lawsuit cites asbestos harm

A multi-million dollar 584-count lawsuit was filed Wednesday of behalf of county residents who allegedly breathed asbestos while employed at Granite City Steel.

The suit, which contains more than 1,000 pages, is on behalf of 54 workers, including bricklayers, hod carriers and steelworkers, who "breathed and inhaled said asbestos fibers during the course of (their) employment and, thereby, developed serious and permanent pulmonary and other health problems diminishing (their) health," the suit contends.

DEFENDANTS, besides the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp., are Manville Corp. and Johns Manville Sales Corp., Wheeler Protective Apparel, Inc., Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., M.H. Detrick Co., General Refractories, A.P. Green Co., Harbison-Walker Co., Kaiser Cement and Gypsum Corp., and Laclede-Christie (Laclede Firebrick Co.).

Attorneys for the 54 plaintiffs are the law office of William E. Brandt and offices of Callis & Hartman, both in Granite City, and Paul Pratt in East Alton.

Each of the 584 counts in the suit seeks in excess of $15,000. The case was filed in Madison County Circuit Court (Third Judicial District) and is yet to be assigned to a judge.

THE COUNTS against Manville

Corp. may be thrown out of the circuit court and reassigned to a New York bankruptcy court, which is hearing Manville's plea for Chapter 11 protection because of 16,500 lawsuits against the company from individuals alleging that they were harmed by asbestos produced or sold by the company.

The bankruptcy action was filed in 1982 and the court set a deadline of today for the filing of lawsuits against Manville, so that it can begin determining the companies' liabilities. Approximately 2,300 new suits had been filed as of last week, according to the Wall Street Journal. Asbestos used to be widely used as insulation and in walls and ceilings. It is believed harmless when it is new, but through the years, it tends to deteriorate and release asbestos-fiber particles and dust into the air, which scientists now believe contributes to serious health problems, including permanent pulmonary diseases.

IT HAS been estimated that 700,000 public and commercial buildings, including some school buildings, contain such "friable" asbestos, which is deteriorating. Schools throughout the country have been ordered by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to inspect for asbestos danger and many school districts and companies are suing Manville for their

Madison crime down in 1984

Madison Police Chief Donald Brick announced Tuesday that a crime declined 17 percent in the city during 1984, compared to 1983. Brick made the statement at the Madison City Council meeting while presenting his department's year-end crime report.

According to the report, there were 281 cases involving major crimes (in this case, robberies, assaults, burglaries, thefts and auto thefts) during the year 1984, compared to 340 cases in 1983.

DECLINES were noted in the areas of forcible rape (two in 1983 and none last year), burglary (119 in 1983 compared to 76 last year) and theft (142 in 1983 compared to 102 last year).

Brick credits the city's burglar alarm system with helping reduce the number of burglaries, especially (Continued on Page 12)

Glik optimistic about UW's future

"This year is going to be even better. I want to build upon your enthusiasm and make this year a great one for the entire area," Bob Glik of Glik's Department Stores stated as he received the gavel as the new president of the Tri-Cities Area United Way during the United Way's annual meeting Monday night at Charlie's Restaurant.

Glik received the gavel from James L. Eisenbeis of Granite City Steel, the outgoing UW president.

GLIK CONGRATULATED Eisenbeis, saying, "I am excited. This is a real challenge. Jim did a super job. Janet Quanton (executive director), a rookie, deserves to be named most valuable player. The office staff also did a great job."

Other new officers of the United Way are: Eric Robertson, vice president (replacing Glik); Joni Karandjeff, secretary (replacing Paul E. Racklewicz); and Earl Dotzauer, re-elected treasurer.

Approximately 150 persons attended the meeting.

SUMMARIZING THE YEAR just concluded, Eisenbeis stated, "The past year has been a very fine experience for our United Way and, in many ways, a turnaround year. We had a good campaign, there was a great deal of community involvement in the United Way and hundreds of people worked in the campaign and our projects."

"The Budget and Allocations group faced one of the toughest challenges any of us have ever been forced into in many years. The surpluses of the last few years were exhausted, so allocations had to be cut. The 22 persons involved on the allocations committee did a very fine job. This is a fine endorsement of the fine things happening in our community the past year."

"I appreciate Janet Quanton's good, fresh ideas. She added vim and vigor to our drive and mission. It has been a real pleasure to serve this past year," Eisenbeis concluded.

ROBERTSON, who served as chairman of this year's fund-raising campaign, thanked those who worked to raise more than $645,000 this year, topping the goal of $630,000. "I want to thank the volunteers. The people in this room represent a cross-section of our community. We (Continued on Page 12)

High start-up costs at GC plant add to A.O. Smith losses

Sales and earnings from continuing operations at A.O. Smith Corporation in 1984 were ahead of 1983, officials reported today.

However, because of a one-time charge related to the planned withdrawal from the agricultural market, A.O. Smith will report a loss for the year of $43,161,000, Thomas I. Dolan, chairman and chief executive officer, said.

Dolan said sales of continuing operations last year amounted to $376,557,000, compared with $791,308,000 in 1983. Earnings from continuing operations were $22,703,000, or $3.06 per share, in 1984 compared with $21,232,000, or $2.88 per share, a year ago.

In November the company announced a writedown which included $32 million related to its agricultural businesses. The loss due to the discontinued agricultural businesses, however, will include $19.4 million in unutilized tax credits and $14.5 million of operating losses incurred prior to the divestiture decision. This makes the total loss in 1984 from discontinued businesses $65.9 million.

The $19.4 million in unutilized tax credits will be recovered in the future as the company earns profits, Dolan said.

Combining the loss resulting from the discontinued businesses with the earnings from continuing operations means A.O. Smith had a loss in 1984 of $43,161,000, or $5.82 per share.

Dolan said that, while the company is accounting for its agricultural businesses on a discontinued basis, it plans to continue to operate those units in a positive manner until buyers are found.

In the fourth quarter of 1984, Dolan said, there was a slight loss from continuing operations because of a write off of some excess manufacturing facilities, large start-up costs at the Granite City automotive structure plant and some unfavorable year-end adjustments.

The loss from continuing operations in the quarter amounted to $102,000, or $0.02 per share, on sales of $201,995,000. In the fourth quarter of 1983, when earnings were favorably impacted by year-end adjustments, A.O. Smith reported a profit from continuing operations of $10,289,000, or $1.39 per share, with sales of $202,823,000.

Dolan, in reviewing 1984 performance of continuing operations, said every major unit of the company reported higher sales and profits than in 1983. "On a performance basis, I am pleased with the improvement shown in 1984 over 1983," Dolan said. "We still have a long ways to go to reach a satisfactory level of profitability," he said, "but I think we are making good progress."

The Automotive Products Company continued to be the largest contributor to both sales and profits in 1984, with results improved over 1983. This unit is the nation's largest manufacturer of automobile and truck frames and is a major supplier of other structural products to the auto industry.

Metalsa, a 37.5 percent-owned affiliate which supplies similar products in the Mexican market, also had a good year in 1984, reporting increased profits as well.

Sales of electric motors into the air conditioning, water pumping and air movement markets grew substantially in 1984 over 1983. The two A.O. Smith companies manufacturing electric motors also reported significantly improved profits over last year.

Earnings also were up at the Water Products Company, a manufacturer of water heating equipment. Sales grew modestly in 1984 while cost cutting measures begun in earlier years had a favorable impact on earnings.

A.O. Smith, with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer. Its product lines include electric motors, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, auto and truck structural components, water heating equipment, fiber glass reinforced plastic piping systems, computer services and software and agricultural financing.

Notification required before wells are dug

Effective Jan. 1, the Madison Council Soil and Water Conservation District began administering the Water Use Act of 1983. This legislation acknowledges the need to better manage and conserve the state's water supply. Under the legislation, all owners of wells constructed after Jan. 1, 1985, are required by law to notify the Soil and Water Conservation District of the proposed point of water withdrawals so that the district may review the impact of the withdrawal on other water users in the area.

Public notification of planned substantial withdrawals is intended to assess the effects of new wells on the water supply in the surrounding areas, not to give the SWCD's the power to regulate or restrict groundwater withdrawals.

The owner of proposed wells which are capable of pumping more than 70 gallons per minute or 100,000 gallons of water daily are required to notify the SWCD's of the proposed water withdrawal prior to actual well construction. The Soil and Water Conservation District, in conjunction with the Illinois State Water Survey will determine the potential impacts of the water extraction. The agencies will then make their findings public.

Under the law, it is a petty offense to extract water without first notifying the proper local authorities. It is hoped that well owners will voluntarily comply with the law to avoid the negative impacts of a negative review, and that negative impacts will be mitigated by adopting pumping schedules that will minimize the negative impacts. Further information regarding the implementing procedures involved with this new law is available from the Soil and Water Conservation District, telephone 1-656-5166, or the Division of Natural Resources at the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

Contract awarded for work on I-70 project

The Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) has awarded a $3,965,673 contract to Keesley and Sons, Inc., and MacLair Asphalt Co., Inc., of East St. Louis to perform work along Interstate 70.

The contract calls for 15.53 miles of pipe underdrains, shoulder repairs and patching, and 2.55 miles of resurfacing, all on I-70 from two miles east of Interstate 55 to the Madison-Bond County line.

IDOT recently awarded road improvement contracts valued at $18.3 million for 20 projects throughout the state.

Independent committee to be organized to study pool's problems

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

A plan to establish a citizens' committee to study the problems concerning the Wilson Park Swimming Pool was the prime topic of discussion at the Granite City Park District meeting last week.

George Sykes, president of the board of park commissioners, also announced that bids are being received for instituting a computer payroll system for the park district and bids for sporting goods, recreation equipment, pool supplies, bedding plants and concession supplies. The bids will be opened at the Feb. 27 meeting for consideration by the board members.

A CONTROVERSY over preparations to open the swimming pool this summer resulted in a motion by Sykes to invite interested residents to organize a citizens' committee to study the problem.

It is the opinion of Sykes that engineers, contractors, electricians, plumbers and other interested citizens will volunteer their time to study the cost estimates of maintaining the swimming pool and make recommendations to the board.

"The citizens' group will not have the right to spend any money and cannot tear up an area for inspection without authorization of the board president and they will complete their inquiry within six months, then be disbanded," Sykes explained.

"DURING THE time of their investigations, no member of the (park) board or staff employee is to interfere or offer advice to the committee. I want this to be totally independent of the park board, thereby giving us fresh, feasible ideas to consider for the continuation of the pool and in time to open on Memorial Day," the president explained.

After a lengthy discussion on the pool's future, a motion was made to limit the amount of money for repairs, not to exceed $10,000 over and above the budgeted amount for pool maintenance.

The motion carried with a 3 to 2 vote with Barry Loman and Jack Hood voting against the proposal. Both were in favor of increasing the renovation money to $20,000.

SYKES EXPLAINED later that should another $1,000 or $2,000 be needed for more repairs, the board will seriously consider agreeing to this amount.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of four power mowers at a total cost of $450, a tiller and an edger costing $1,029 for the two and agreed to pay the annual dues of $1,307 to the Illinois Parks Association.

The commissioners also approved a request from the maintenance employees for two sets of long sleeved shirts, three sets of foul weather gear not to exceed $150, a canopy or umbrella on a park vehicle as protection against the sun during the summer months and a similar covering for the highlight.

APPROVAL WAS granted to the Friends of the Library to sponsor a book sale in the Wilson Park Ice Rink, beginning at 10 a.m. June 7 through the 9, and to the Daughters of the American Revolution to use the Harold Brown Recreation Center for a workshop session in April.

Mathias, Hagnauer push for new auto plant in area

Economic development leaders in Madison and St. Clair counties think General Motors should build its proposed Saturn auto assembly plant in this region, they made clear at a press conference Tuesday in Collinsville.

Carl E. Mathias of Granite City, Illinois Power Co. service area manager, president of the Southwestern Illinois Leadership Council and also president of the Bi-State Development Agency, said it would be difficult for any other Illinois county to match the incentives being offered if GM selects Glen Carbon, Troy, O'Fallon or Belleville.

MADISON COUNTY'S potential sites are near Interstates 270 and 55-70. Mathias urged coordinated, unified support of the goal of attracting a $3 billion industry.

Millions of dollars in financial savings are being offered by officials and agencies, Mathias said. A decision by GM on the placement of the 6,000-employee facility is expected to be made in April. Suppliers would add 10,000 workers, projections indicate.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said county officials would propose that voters authorize up to $35 million in general obligation bonds to help finance the project if this county is chosen.

AARON RIDENOUR, Madison County economic development director, said the county also could offer $6 million in highway funds and would seek "enterprise zone" designation to permit tax abatements.

The four-site regional plan was forwarded Tuesday afternoon to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA). It was written through joint efforts of the Leadership Council's Illinois Task Force of development groups, including:

SOUTHWESTERN Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the Regional Commerce and Growth Association, Madison and St. Clair counties' economic development departments, Chambers of Commerce and Belleville Economic Progress.

State Treasurer James H. Donnewald, whose Linked Deposit Program has been used as an economic development tool, said in Springfield he is offering the deposit mechanism to help attract a Saturn plant. State receipts would be deposited in financial institutions aiding the construction or equipping of the plant.

Offers mentioned at the press conference included funds for site preparation and improvement, rezoning of property and assistance in avoiding procedural "red tape."

GOVERNOR James R. Thompson has pledged impartiality to all communities in his attempts to attract the Saturn plant. More than 45 proposals have been submitted to the DCCA.

Pointing out that University of Illinois (Urbana-Champaign) Chancellor John E. Cribbet heads GM's scientific advisory committee, Thompson said at Chicago that the full resources of the statewide university system would be made available to the auto producer.

The governor added, "That might ultimately make the difference between selecting Illinois or another state."

MEETING IS CANCELLED WITH 4TH WARD RESIDENTS

According to Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak, a meeting originally scheduled for this Saturday with the North Granite and Nameoki Drive residents has been cancelled.

Mrs. Perjak said the meeting was called to discuss truck traffic, however, representative of a local truck firm wishes to meet with residents privately first, before having a public meeting, she said.

Simon to meet public Feb. 8

The new U.S. senator from Illinois, Paul Simon, will conduct a "town meeting" for area citizens at 1 p.m. Friday, Feb. 8.

Location will be the Madison Room on the first floor of the University Center, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Sen. Simon, a 10-year Democratic congressman residing in Makanda, defeated three-term Sen. Charles H. Percy in the November 1984 election and began his new duties in Washington this month.

In inviting Illinoisans to the meeting, Simon said, "To serve you best as your United States senator, I need to know what's on your mind. I hope you will come to the town meeting."

"If you feel strongly about an issue, I want to know about it. I want to hear your questions. As always in these meetings, there will be no speeches and everyone is welcome." The former lieutenant governor once represented this community and southern Madison County in the Illinois House and then the Illinois Senate.

He previously was editor of the Troy Tribune newspaper and campaigned against organized crime in the bi-state metropolitan area.

State-backed 10.78% mortgages available

First-time homebuyers may qualify for mortgages at 10.78 percent under a new state mortgage bond program which took effect yesterday.

The state has sold bonds and will use the money to help those who do so now. In addition to the low interest rate, the state-backed program offers 35-year mortgages with a down payment of only five percent.

However, persons and couples interested in the program have less than a month to secure a purchase contract on a home and to register for a lottery to determine who receives the low-interest mortgages.

Persons interested in the program are urged to contact a real estate agent of their choice immediately. Additional details are available at several agencies, including Realty World Star at 876-0024.

Police investigate armed robbery

Madison police are investigating the possible armed robbery of three Alton residents who claim they were threatened by at least one man carrying a .45-caliber weapon. The incident occurred last weekend in the parking lot of the El Capalero Lounge, 700 Jackson St., Madison.

Denise D. Bell, Earl L. Shepherd and Yvonne Carol Laster, all of Alton, told police they were leaving the tavern when a man yelled for them to stop. He then pointed his gun at them and proceeded to rob them of their jewelry and other valuables.

Mrs. Bell estimated that the jewelry taken from her was valued at $2,500. Items included three gold bracelets, four necklaces, two of which were holding diamond charms, a wedding set of antique rings and a diamond cocktail ring containing 18 diamonds.

Shepherd told police he had been robbed of an 18-inch gold chain and a pair of glasses. The estimated value of his loss is $200.

Mrs. Laster said the suspect took the following items from her: two necklaces, a butterfly ring with seven diamonds, $10 cash and $20 in food stamps. The value is estimated at $137.

Both Shepherd and Mrs. Bell told police that an unsuccessful struggle occurred between themselves and the suspect.

The suspect is described as a black male, 5 foot, 11 inches tall, weighing 160 pounds, having a dark complexion and a moustache.

Place child, 5, in foster home

A 5-year-old Grand Avenue boy was placed in a foster home Tuesday when the situation at his home was found to be deplorable.

A woman reported seeing the boy outside the dwelling in the cold and she took the child inside to his apartment. The father reportedly was intoxicated and police were called.

An officer went to the apartment, and said the place was devoid of furniture, except for an old broken bed. There was no food in the cabinets, nor in the icebox, the officer reported.

The father was lying next to the bed on the floor apparently intoxicated and couldn't be aroused. The child was taken to police headquarters.

A representative of the Illinois Division of Children and Family Services was contacted and returned with the officer to the apartment, where the man still was lying on the floor, reports said.

Apparently, there was no mother around and the youngster was placed in a foster home.

VENICE WOMAN BATTERED

Denetria McIntyre of 101 Venice Homes, Venice, told Venice police earlier this week, that she and her former friend got into an argument at her home. He kicked her stomach and hit her back with his fists, she said. Miss McIntyre was treated at the hospital for injuries.

Judge Hildebrand resigning

Associate Judge Thomas E. Hildebrand of Granite City announced Wednesday that he has submitted his resignation, effective April 15, to Chief Circuit Judge A.A. Matosian of Granite City.

Hildebrand has been an associate judge since Sept. 8, 1980, and an attorney since the fall of 1976. He was in private practice before being appointed to the associate judgeship, which pays $68,000 a year.

He has served in many areas of the county, including the Granite City Court, as well as most recently in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

"ANSWERS YOU'VE ALWAYS WANTED ABOUT FINANCIAL PLANNING and MONEY MANAGEMENT but... Didn't Know Who To Ask."

This is the subject of a three session workshop on Money Management designed for the concerned layman.

In these busy times, earning income, caring for loved ones, and getting a little enjoyment out of life definitely leaves little time for developing an effective course of action in managing financial affairs. Yet it becomes more important each day in light of current and future inflation, taxes, and the inevitable day of retirement.

Whether you're married, widowed, divorced, or single you can and should know about matters such as:

- The importance of having an updated workable financial plan.
- My taxes - how can they be reduced? Tax Shelters? Trusts? Gifts?
- How to protect myself against inflation?
- How do I make investment decisions without undue risk?
- How adequate is my life insurance program? That of my spouse?
- How can I benefit from new IRA Legislation? Can my old IRA be moved to my benefit?
- What do I need to know about probate, probate and cons of joint tenancy, Rollover, Revocable and Reversionary trusts, death taxes?

stockholders to consider the merger is scheduled for 11 a.m. Thursday, March 7, at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh, Pa.

"Your board of directors has given careful consideration to the merger and the business, financial and market implications of the merger to National Intergroup and its stockholders," Love said in his letter to stockholders.

"THE COMBINATION of National Intergroup and Bergen Brunswig is a strategic redirection of your company and its assets and meets our long-term objectives of diversification."

Love said the new company would be strong in the rapidly-growing distribution services industry, which he believes has better growth potential than steel.

It also would be strong in pharmaceutical distribution and medical and surgical supplies.

BERGEN BRUNSWIG also is the nation's largest distributor of prerecorded video cassettes. "We expect that the distribution segment will grow to major importance in your new company," Love told the stockholders.

Other advantages Love cited are that the merger would reduce NII's dependence on steel and would enable the combined company to invest its substantial cash resources in the distribution services area, emerging "from the transaction in a strong and competitive financial condition having substantially greater assets, earnings, sales and cash flow and a great degree of diversification."

Love and Bergen Brunswig officials were expected to explain the proposed merger in greater detail in a nationwide telephone hookup with newspapers at 1 p.m. today.

spokesman said.

The only requirement for membership is a desire to stop eating compulsively. There are no dues or fees. OA is self-supporting through members' contributions. No weight records are kept.

OA was started in 1960 in Los Angeles. It has grown into an international organization with chapters in every state and 22 countries. More than 60 meetings are held each week throughout the St. Louis area, as well as outlying parts of Illinois and Missouri.

More information is available from the OA office, 9703 Gravois, Affton, Mo., 1-314-688-6070.

FIRE IN MITCHELL. Mitchell volunteer firefighters battle the bitter cold as they fight a house fire at 777 Carolyn Drive in Mitchell. Owned by Robert Churchwell, the two-story home was heavily damaged by water and smoke. A faulty heat tape around the water pipes is believed to have started the fire, which caused an estimated $10,000 damage to the structure and $7,500 to the contents. The wind chill dropped well below zero as the firefighters fought this blaze for more than an hour. One firefighter was struck on the head, but did not require medical attention.

Skilled labor ideal for GM, senator says

Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, has written to Michael Woeffler, director of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, citing local attractions to new industry, including a pool of skilled workers.

The local senator said, "Every resource at my disposal will be directed to locating the proposed General Motors Saturn plant on a site in Madison County. Two specific sites have already been identified by experts, but the assets offered by Madison County go beyond attractive land locations.

"If GM is interested in making this imaginative new automobile at the highest production levels, they would be well advised to utilize the excellent work force ready and waiting in this region.

"Many industrial workers with enviable records of experience and dedication were victims of the recession of the early 1980s. They can go to work immediately.

"There are also a number of accessible sites for retraining and skill refining centers in school buildings easily adaptable for such uses.

"Granite City, I am sure, and other nearby communities provide excellent examples of areas blessed with a work force that can operate at the highest levels of skill, productivity and industrial experience of all dimensions. I defy any other area in the nation to make a comparable claim.

"With the new road system rushing toward completion, river port facilities second to none, rail and truck terminal facilities abounding and the lock and dam projects on the river, it is hard to imagine an area with a broader, more flexible system of transportation.

"Madison County is right at the heart of the nation; the sites proposed have ready accessibility to any needs that might arise in construction and operation of this plant.

"There are planning and development agencies now at work with the sophistication and expertise to move the project to the quickest possible fruition, and to support it over the long run.

"Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is giving strong focus to fostering economic, industrial and engineering development. It will stand as a permanent friendly neighbor to the corporation, sensitive to its needs and assisting it at the highest technological levels. Educational programs at the community college and common school levels are first-rate and improving daily.

"With the great Mississippi River as one of our boundaries, the region stands as one of the most water-rich in the nation. We have exercised outstanding stewardship over this increasingly precious and mysteriously underappreciated resource.

"General Motors would be wise to examine carefully its future projections for water supplies to meet all contingencies. Madison County sites are incomparable in this regard.

"All of us recognize that the competition to acquire this new plant will be fierce. It is, therefore, urgent that the State of Illinois put its best case forward.

"It would be unrealistic to assume that partisan and provincial considerations will not be parts of the process. However, when all is said and done, I remain convinced that Madison County has the best case of all.

Nameoki Township assessor informs board of new rules

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Nameoki Township Assessor Carl Macios reported to the town board of trustees Monday night that there have been some changes in filing for exemptions under the Homestead Improvement Act and in the procedure for filing a complaint on property assessments.

Macios' comments came following a meeting on Jan. 23 with other area township assessors and Madison County Supervisor of Assessments Robert A. Harris of Granite City.

BEGINNING THIS YEAR, Macios related, those persons seeking tax exemptions on their home improvements must file only once under the Homestead Improvement Act. Previously, homeowners needed to file annually to keep home improvements off the assessment books for four years.

Macios also told the board that the forms for filing complaints against property assessments have been revised. He said complainants now must go into more detail as to their disagreement with their assessors. And he added, some complaints may be referred to local assessors, thus easing the workload for the county Board of Review.

Last year, he noted, the county received 76 complaints out of 5,500 parcels of land in Nameoki Township. Of those complaints, 40 property owners appeared before the Board of Review and two appealed to the state.

THIS YEAR, Macios said, Nameoki Township will receive a multiplier of 1.0, which means that property is not over- or under-assessed. He added that county officials expect to mail out property tax bills in May. Last year, the tax bills were not mailed until September.

In other matters before the town board Monday night, Kenneth Davis, a candidate for township trustee, told the trustees that he had talked to Metro-East Sanitary District Executive Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse about the level of Horseshoe Lake.

Davis noted that the level of the lake was discussed during the Jan. 14 meeting of the board. Since then, he related, "The lake has drained to where it normally is. The low level gate is not clogged up, like it was reported."

DAVIS SAID that Greathouse was waiting for the Mississippi River to go down so that gravity flow could carry water out of Horseshoe Lake. That method, Greathouse explained, is less expensive than using pumping operations to lower the lake level.

In a related matter, Trustee Helen Hawkins reported that a well test by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has proved successful. The Corps tested a well system two weeks ago in an attempt to reduce the underground water level in the Dobrye Slough. The test is part of a long-term project to alleviate flooding in the area.

Mrs. Hawkins said the well did bring the underground water level down—as much as seven inches at one point.

THE TRUSTEES passed a resolution to pay half of the expenses incurred by Chouteau Township for a toll-free line to the Madison County Sheriff's Department. The toll-free number, 931-0666, allows Nameoki Township residents to call the sheriff's department without paying long-distance telephone charges. Chouteau Township officials previously agreed to allow Nameoki residents to use the line.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs noted that the expenses for the toll-free line will be paid from Revenue Sharing monies that were set aside by the township to pay for its own toll-free line.

The board also agreed to transfer $5,000 in the material and supplies, and $2,000 in the personnel salaries funds to the labor fund in the Special Hard Road Budget.

IN THE GENERAL Assistance budget, it was agreed to transfer $400 from the contingencies fund to the telephone, unemployment insurance and IMRF funds.

CITE DRIVER FOR DUI AFTER FENCE IS HIT

Robert A. Massman, 49, of 2606 E. 25th St., was arrested at home and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failure to give information after his vehicle allegedly struck property at 8:20 p.m. Monday.

Officers were advised that a brown station wagon traveling east on East 25th Street left the roadway and struck a picket fence at 2638 E. 25th. The vehicle was found parked down the street and fresh damage to the right corner of the front bumper was noticeable, reports alleged.

Massman was found inside the dwelling and was arrested. He declined to take a breathalyzer test and was released on $102 cash bail.

Logjam on I-255 funds

Congressional action is to be sought during February to release more than $7 billion in Interstate highway funds. Work could be slowed on I-255 if there is inaction, an Illinois Transportation Department spokesman said this week.

I-255 is being extended northeastward from I-270 and the Jefferson Barracks Bridge in southern St. Louis County toward I-270 in Madison County, completing a circular traffic artery around the bi-state metropolitan area.

About $250 million has not yet been forwarded to Illinois, and about $30 million of that affects I-255.

The spokesman said delay until March would leave insufficient lead time to award additional contracts and allow supplies to be ordered for the spring construction season.

U.S. Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole is advising Congress that 40 states are short of federal money to advance their pending highway projects. Differences have developed over the precise wording of the legislation and which geographic areas should be included.

Plads Innocent to DUI, other charges

Richard L. Martin, 21, of 2730 Harding Blvd., pleaded innocent to charges of driving under the influence of alcohol, two counts of criminal damage to property and failure to give information after striking property in a court appearance at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A non-jury trial date was set and a public defender was appointed by Associate Judge Wendell Durr. Martin posted his driver's license and was released.

Martin was arrested at 1:05 a.m. Tuesday after his auto allegedly was seen backing into the Granite City Park District's concession stand in the 2300 block of Rock Road. The car then left the scene, it was reported.

Damage was sustained to the concession stand's front overhead door and a wall toward the rear of the building, reports said.

A description of the vehicle was given and the same car allegedly struck a traffic sign and was seen being backed from an area between the street and sidewalk at Jefferson Avenue and West 22nd Street.

Martin was taken to custody in the 2700 block of Harding Boulevard. He declined to take a breathalyzer test, reports noted.

Arrest several in service station lot

Called to a disturbance last at a service station in the 1800 block of Madison Avenue, officers noted that several persons were squared off against each other and were being backed from an area between the street and sidewalk at Jefferson Avenue and West 22nd Street.

Circuit breaker form assistance

Senior residents in the Quad-City area may now make appointments to receive assistance in filling out 1984 Circuit Breaker forms, it was announced this week.

Help will be provided each Friday, by appointment only, at the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) office, located in the old McKinley School building, 22nd and Iowa streets.

The need for advance reservations to receive assistance is due to the large number of persons currently eligible to file Circuit Breaker forms, it was explained.

The Circuit Breaker provision is a state tax assessment relief claim for seniors age 65 years and older and disabled persons with annual incomes of $12,000 or less.

Those filing may call 876-3223 during regular office hours, Mondays through Fridays, to make an appointment. However, appointments will only be scheduled on subsequent Friday, between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 a.m.

RSVP is part of the Programs and Services for Older Persons program, sponsored by Belleville Area College.

Recent arrests for driving under the influence of alcohol include:

— Edward W. Foley Jr., 41, of 601 Washington Ave., arrested early this week in a parking lot at 1623 Madison Ave. He was seen by an officer leaving a restaurant and later was seated in a car with the engine running. CYS receives grant for abuse prevention program

Coordinated Youth Services (CYS) has received funding for a child sexual abuse prevention program which will target day care, preschool and school children in grades kindergarten through second in Madison and Bond counties.

According to Program Coordinator Donna Daisy, the Department of Children and Family Services is providing CYS with a $12,762 grant to implement the program—the only grant awarded to a program of this nature in the region.

Plans call for the program to train 30 day care and preschool providers and nine teacher teams (18 teachers representing nine schools, including teachers from Madison, Venice and Granite City). CYS officials also plan to make presentations to 500 parents and 200 children at Women, Infant and Children (WIC) clinics throughout Madison and Bond counties.

According to Mrs. Daisy, the training will be provided by experienced project trainers at in-service sessions and will include child abuse detection information (a 15-minute film entitled "Child Abuse and Neglect: What the Educators See" produced by the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect).

Weapon, traffic charges are filed

After a speeding auto traveling south in the 1400 block of Edwardsville Road was clocked on radar, Joseph L. Baugus, 18, of 2929 Saratoga Ave., the driver, was stopped at 12th Street.

The 1974 Cadillac had no rear license plate and an Ohio plate was affixed to the front bumper. A license applied for paper, bearing the name of a relative of the driver, was stuck on a window, it was noted. Baugus was allegedly sought on an active warrant issued by the Alton Police Department alleging failure to appear in court on a shoplifting charge.

After ordering Baugus out of the auto, an officer alleged seeing the butt of a pistol protruding from beneath the driver's seat. A .32-caliber five-shot semi-automatic pistol and three live rounds were confiscated.

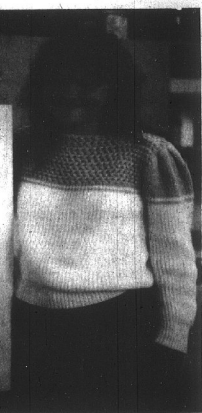

Baugus was charged with unlawful use of a weapon, not having a Firearm Owner's Identification (FOID) card, speeding and on the warrant.

In clarifying ownership of the auto, the vehicle identification number (VIN) could not be reconciled with the license plate, reports noted, and Baugus also was charged with affixing a license plate to an unauthorized vehicle.

He was released from custody after posting a $304 cash bond.

FINED, HELD ON WARRANT

Sandra Merrifield, 34, of 2207 Edison Ave., was fined $50 last week for being arrested for disorderly conduct there the previous day. She was retained in custody after the court hearing and then was released to St. Clair County authorities in response to a warrant. In an unrelated case, Harry J. Wallace, 38, of 2808 Oregon Ave. posted $52 bail after being charged with disorderly conduct last week.

ON EXHIBIT, Della Corbitt, top, and Bruce Breeden, above, are two of eight Granite City High School students whose art pieces have been accepted for an exhibit at Washington University. The exhibit, Feb. 3 through 10, is part of the university's annual High School Art Competition.

Washington University accepts art submitted by Granite City students

The jury for the seventh annual High School Art Competition sponsored by Washington University School of Fine Arts has voted to accept nine pieces of artwork from Granite City High School students. The pieces all were completed during the fall semester of the current school year.

According to Ann Rich, art department head at Granite City High School, the competition is still because all high school juniors and seniors within a 100-mile radius of St. Louis are eligible. Slides of the artwork were submitted for judging by Sister Gabriel Mary Hare of Webster University.

"This is the fourth year our high school has entered this competition," Miss Rich said, "and we are very excited about having nine works of art accepted to this most selective exhibit."

The students whose works were accepted are Bruce Breeden, Della Corbitt, Mia Juergensen, Judy Rolen, John Rutledge, Donetta Teachenor, Bob Wilds and Jeff Zukas. Miss Juergensen will exhibit two pieces of artwork. The students are taught by Miss Rich and Phyllis Weiss.

The exhibition will open on Sunday, Feb. 3, with a reception for the participants from 2 to 4 p.m. The reception is open to the public. The exhibit will run from Feb. 3 to 10 in the Bixby Gallery, second floor of Bixby Hall. Bixby Hall is on the southeast corner of the Washington University campus at the intersection of Forsythe and Skinker boulevards. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

BRAKES CUT, RADIO GONE

Clarence E. Howard of East St. Louis, told police last week that someone broke into his van while it was parked in the lot at Madison Lawn Equipment, 125 Second St., Madison. Entry was gained by breaking out the driver's side vent window. The radio and an electric brake control were taken. The hydraulic lines to the brakes were also cut.

and training in the use of the curriculum entitled "Preventing Sexual Abuse: Activities and Strategies for those Working with Children and Adolescents."

"The design of the curriculum selected allows it to be easily incorporated into day care—preschool settings and regular classroom work," Mrs. Daisy commented. "This curriculum provides the focus which, with leadership from the agency's professional staff, can mobilize volunteers, parents, day care—preschool providers and school personnel to develop an effective implementation of the curriculum and facilitate communication between parents, teachers and students about the nature and scope of the problem."

The program also will focus on community education in Madison and Bond counties through members of a speakers' bureau specifically trained in the area of child sexual abuse detection. Plans call for at least 1,775 children and 1,108 adults to be trained when the program begins sometime next month.

Statistics show that 35,000 children in Illinois will be abused or neglected this year. According to the Department of Children and Family Services, 1,993 children in Madison County were abused or neglected this year, which is the third highest number of cases in Illinois.

In addition, Madison County authorities received 105 reports of alleged sexual abuse of children in 1983.

The grant for the program came from monies collected by the Illinois Department of Revenue through its income tax "checkoff" program, in which taxpayers who are owed refunds may donate part of the refund to the Child Abuse Fund. Taxpayers last year gave $494,084 to the program.

Further information about the program is available by calling 876-2383 or 876-8189. Coordinated Youth Services (CYS) is a non-profit agency which has been serving Madison County communities since 1981.

ADOPT ME. Sambo, a 1-year-old black spaniel dog, is available for adoption at the APA Shelter, 5000 Old Alton Road. Sambo was abandoned and left tied to a fence during freezing weather, before a shelter volunteer found him. It is believed he was abused by his former owners and is shy to newcomers. For more information, interested persons may call the shelter at 931-7030. Shelter hours are Mondays, 10 a.m. to noon; Tuesdays, 4 to 6 p.m.; Wednesdays, 5 to 8 p.m.; Thursdays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Fridays, noon to 3 p.m.; Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and Sundays, noon to 3 p.m. (Press-Record Photo)

Federal funds released for area transit project

The release of $3.5 million by the Urban Mass Transit Administration has brought a decades-old dream for a regional light rail transit system closer to a reality.

UMTA released the money Tuesday to pay for the preliminary engineering on a $250 million, 18-mile-long light-rail system between East St. Louis and Lambert Field (R-Mo.). St. Louis Mayor Vincent Schoenhecker Jr. and East-West Gateway Coordinating Council Chairman and St. Louis County Board Chairman Jerry Costello discussed the details following the announcement.

They indicated that the federal money will be combined with $1.2 million in local funds to determine where to locate the rail line and stations and to develop management plans for the system.

The local funds are comprised of $800,000 from the Bi-State Development Agency and $400,000 the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council received in a settlement on a lawsuit for overcharges of gasoline.

The coordinating council, which is overseeing the project, plans to hire consulting engineers within three months, barring any delay by the

VOTER REGISTRATION

Residents of Chouteau Township who wish to register to vote may do so on Saturday, Feb. 2 at the Chouteau Township office, 657 N. Thorgate Drive, Mrs. Pat Polley, town clerk, announced today.

The office will be open from 10 a.m. until noon to accommodate those who work during the week and find it impossible to register, she added.

Officials hope construction will begin in 1987, with completion in 1989.

Last year, Congress appropriated the funds for the 1984 fiscal year, but UMTA Administrator Ralph Stanley opposed the release of funds for an engineering study, saying it would not be cost effective.

But since then Stanley has conceded that the proposal meets UMTA guidelines on potential ridership and that the $70 million value of rail property included the Erie Bridge, tunnel and 13 miles of track. That concession means that the federal government will pay the entire cost of building the light-rail system.

Officials say other disagreements among federal and local officials can be resolved during the preliminary engineering.

Find man hiding in GC apartment

Donald W. Craig, 27, of 108 Abbott St., Venice, was arrested during the weekend when he was discovered hiding under a pile of clothes in a Kirkpatrick Homes apartment.

Craig, who allegedly had active warrants pending against him, was backing a station wagon from a parking lot in the 3900 block of Kirkpatrick Homes when he allegedly saw an officer jump out of the vehicle, running into an apartment.

When Craig failed to come out of the dwelling, the manager was contacted. Two women inside the apartment denied any knowledge of Craig, who then was found hiding underneath a pile of clothing and a bench inside a stairway closet.

Craig allegedly did not respond to the officers' request to come out and a struggle ensued after he was forcibly removed.

He was charged with resisting arrest and served three traffic warrants. About two hours later, he was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Madison faces competition for new race track

There is a possibility that the city of Madison may lose a commercial project, the $7.5 million Trans-Am course now under construction around the current St. Louis International Raceway on Route 303 southeast of Madison. Since the raceway is actually in an unincorporated area of St. Clair County, new bids being offered assistance by the St. Clair County Board.

Madison's acting mayor, Thomas Gordon, said Wednesday morning that he still is negotiating with Ted Haines and Kevin Eicher, representatives of the St. Clair County Board, to help finance the project.

Although the St. Clair County Board has offered the representatives a financial package to help fund improvements by authorizing the county to issue $3.5 million in industrial revenue bonds for the race course, the final decision is not been made which contender will be selected.

The St. Clair County Board also approved a $200,000 loan to the track in an effort to close the deal. Madison could benefit, if annexation becomes a possibility, by new jobs available to Madison residents, sales taxes and concessions.

A resolution authorizing the execution of a memorandum of agreement with the raceway was approved by the Madison aldermen at the Madison City Council's Jan. 4 meeting.

In other business at the Tuesday night council meeting, the aldermen approved annexation of three more small parcels of land on Rhodes Street, Edwardsville Road and along Caine Drive.

They also agreed to purchase equipment for the street department, including a refuse truck from Key Equipment Co., costing $30,325; a 1983 Chevrolet truck chassis from Novotny Chevrolet for $35,619; a two-ton dump truck from Novotny for $128,507 and two snow plows at a total cost of $7,527.

Also, a three-quarter-ton pickup truck from Granite Chrysler costing $9,975 and a salt spreader from Krantz Co. for $27,000.

The annual police department report was submitted by Chief Donald Bridick during the meeting and bills for the month amounting to $58,735 were approved.

The smoke alarm installation was discussed and it was noted 140 have been installed in Madison homes to date.

The council committee working on the purchase of property for the West Madison playground is continuing their efforts, Gordon informed the aldermen.

During the last subzero weather, the city ordered emergency shelter at the recreation centers for those people without heat or other utilities and some firemen remained available to provide emergency transportation to the shelters, it was reported.

Gordon said he wants to continue the project through the winter and summer months as an overall community endeavor.

Election board hearing Friday on Mehelic petitions

An election board comprised of Nameoki Township officials will meet Friday, Feb. 1, to determine the validity of petitions filed by former Highway Commissioner Mark Mehelic and his wife, Melba.

The Mehelics both have filed to run for highway commissioner in the April 2 elections, but highway department dispatcher Shirley Denon has objected to the couple's petitions because they allegedly bear the same signatures. According to Denon, the Mehelics' signatures are identical.

The hearing is scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday in Courtroom 9 in the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville. Sitting on the election board are Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs, Town Clerk Donald "Doc" Ridgeway and Trustee Helen Hawkins.

However, Mrs. Hawkins has objected to serving on the board because she is leading a state of candidates in Nameoki Township. Briggs and Ridgeway also are seeking re-election to their positions.

Mrs. Hawkins told the Press-Record that she also objects to the selection of the election board, since it was not done during an official town board meeting. Mrs. Hawkins was chosen to serve on the board after the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees meeting Monday, Jan. 28. A drawing was conducted to determine whether she or Trustee Joseph Garcia would serve on the election board, since both have served as trustees for the same length of time. Statutes provide that the township supervisor, the clerk and the trustee with the most seniority serve on the election board.

Mehelic has told the Press-Record that either he or his wife will withdraw from the race for highway commissioner. The deadline for withdrawals is 5 p.m. today.

Mehelic was ousted from the highway commissioner position last October on a ruling by Madison County Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson. The ouster followed Mehelic's conviction July 17 on one count of official misconduct for ordering township employees to perform work on a personal car. He was sentenced in September to two years of probation, ordered to devote 200 hours to public service work and was fined $500 plus court costs.

Mehelic is free on a $10,000 recognizance bond while his appeal is pending.

Assessment case assigned to Madison County judges

Illinois Court Administrator Roy O. Guley said Monday it is up to Madison County judges to decide whether to retain the Locher assessment, a special prosecutor of assessment bribery allegations.

Adams County Circuit Judge Dennis Cashman, who appointed Locher, no longer has jurisdiction now that grand jurors have concluded their investigation and indicted six persons, Guley said.

The defendants are seeking to have Locher removed, contending he has been working too closely with former Madison County Board Chairman Don Weber. New State's Attorney Richard Allen has said he will allow Locher to continue, but the judges now will make that decision. Locher unsuccessfully sought to have the case transferred from judges of the 3rd and 20th circuits.

With Locher saying the judges tend to favor the defendants, those awaiting trial say the special prosecutor is against them. Chief Criminal Judge Philip J. Rarik has blocked Locher's bid to have such issues decided elsewhere, and has ruled when he will rule on the request to oust the prosecutor. Rarik ruled Monday that Cashman has no jurisdiction, and said Cashman agreed this is true.

Locher favored having Cashman decide whether Locher should continue handling the assessment prosecution. But that has been rejected and he will now have to rely on the same judges who have previously tried to halt his investigation in November. A 46-count indictment against six persons followed in December.

Weber was removed from the case and then was indicted for allegedly trying to manipulate the assessment probe for political purposes. That case was dismissed but is being appealed by another special prosecutor.

Rarik decided Monday that the usual deadline on bringing the six to trial will not apply due to the time required to decide Locher's status.

CANNABIS CHARGE

A 15-year-old Granite City High School student was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis at 11:20 a.m. Tuesday after he allegedly was seen trying to get another student to take a wooden pipe containing a small quantity of cannabis. He was released to his parents on notice to appear for a hearing.

stress test and an exercise prescription.

NAUTILUS members also will be offered various health promotion classes and seminars at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at half price.

The purchase of the Nautilus equipment was made possible, in part, by corporate donations from SEMC, McDonnell Douglas Corp., Nestle Co. and Granite City Steel. Other corporations interested in the program are being urged to contact the YMCA at 876-7280. An engraved plaque will name the Nautilus area recognizing corporations which assisted in purchasing the equipment.

"Nautilus is a state-of-the-art conditioning system which utilizes exercise machines, individual progress records and expert supervision to provide maximum conditioning benefits while minimizing the time spent exercising," explained Jerry Swatling, YMCA executive director.

"THREE 20- to 30-minute workouts a week provide the fastest, safest method known to reduce fat, increase strength and endurance, improve overall health and reduce the chances of injury," Swatling added.

He noted that the Nautilus, in combination with the existing pool, racquetball courts, gymnasium and weight room "provide the most extensive health and fitness facility in the area, at the least cost."

Final approval for receipt of the Nautilus equipment was given, with conditions, by the YMCA Board of Directors Jan. 21. The board also approved the expenditure of funds for a major renovation of the YMCA's locker room facilities, new showerheads with temperature controls and the installation of 136 new lockers to significantly improve the facility.

AN EXTENSIVE cleanup campaign in the locker and shower rooms, including cleaning the walls and floors with acid, has been completed in preparation for the opening of the new Nautilus facility.

Crime down in 1984

Traffic arrests more than doubled over the 420 arrests in 1983, with 926 reported last year.

TOTAL ARRESTS, including traffic, misdemeanor and felony were up 47 percent, with 742 persons arrested in 1983 and 1,098 persons last year.

Fine monies collected from arrests in Madison increased from $17,337 in 1983 to $27,077 last year.

The number of traffic accidents reported declined slightly from 207 in 1983 to 205 last year. There were no fatal auto accidents in 1984, which is a decrease of two from 1983.

THE NUMBER OF juvenile offenses declined sharply, with crimes decreasing from 119 in 1983 to 72 in 1984.

Although the Madison Police Department operated without the services of a full-time detective for the majority of 1984, the detective division still reported the clearance of five cases, with 18 being investigated.

The humane officer answered 383 calls in 1983, a 65 percent decline from 448 the previous year. A total of 262 animals were picked up last year, a drop from 366 in 1983. Dog and cat bites were up slightly in 1984 with 24 persons bitten, compared to 23 in 1983.

THE MADISON POLICE Department also investigated a total of 3,108 alarms during 1984, which is an increase of 1,380 alarms in 1983.

Bridick commented that the report showed that the "majority of the policemen are still doing their job, despite the adversity (shortage of manpower) that the city has experienced in the last year. They are to be complimented because their first concern are for the residents of Madison."

Acting Mayor Thomas Gordon said that he is "generally pleased" with the report. However, he said he feels there is room for improvement in the police department. "We will be reviewing performances of individuals and methods used in serving the public," he said. "There will be some recommendations made."

In his written report to the annual meeting, Robertson also said, "This campaign was built up on the foundation laid by Tom Majewski, chairman of the 1983 campaign and I hope that the 1984 campaign will provide more support to the coming campaign in 1985."

"I would like to thank those who supported our community through their United Way contributions. I would also like to thank the executive committee and the board of directors of the Tri-Cities Area United Way for an opportunity to serve as drive chairman, and for the opportunity to be associated with an organization consisting of such

SPECIAL AWARDS presented during the meeting included a set of luggage and a plaque to Elizabeth and an award to Bob Gill of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, who prepared a video tape of the local United Way and its work which won a Bronze Award in regional video tape competition.

News enlivens, enriches grade school classes

Emerson School is no longer owned by the Granite City school district. But one of the long-established traditions there, newspapers in the classroom, lives on at Marshall School.

Not coincidentally, Emerson Principal Alfred J. Wilson was transferred to Marshall when Emerson was closed in the summer of 1983. The downtown building later was sold to the Nestle Co., Inc.

MARSHALL SCHOOL, located at Marshall Avenue and Victory Drive, may be unique in the degree to which it utilizes newspapers in every subject and every grade. News has not quite, but nearly, replaced textbooks at the school.

Nationwide, hundreds of other schools involve newspapers in their daily classes but as a supplement to the regular school books, instead of the reverse.

Wilson not only pioneered the program locally but has spoken to many regional and national gatherings to explain what is being done and to encourage other districts to try it. He has become one of Granite City's best known "ambassadors" to other areas of the U.S.

THE PRINCIPAL concedes that sports box scores, stock market prices and other statistical sections of newspapers are not the only way to teach mathematics. He agrees that news stories are not the only method of instructing pupils in history, geography and other courses.

But students' scores and accumulated knowledge show his approach is working, and he credits much of the success to the extra aura of excitement and interest associated with each day's discoveries of brand-new facts and occurrences.

No matter how up-to-date, textbooks cannot compete with each "hot off the press" immediacy, he points out.

CARTOON COMICS not only teach the alphabet, spelling, language and grammar but also can be compared with each other on a given day to find which plot or situation or topic best describes an assigned word.

Additional preparation is required from faculty members as each class begins.

But their reward is the extra enthusiasm generated by—and the added accomplishment achieved by—"turned-on" elementary students.

NEWSPAPERS CONTAIN such a wealth of information that teaching and tests can be adapted to every age group, Wilson is convinced.

One member of the faculty comments that the available data is "living history," noting that the second inauguration of President Ronald Reagan will take much longer to appear in school books than in the Marshall School curriculum.

The newspaper utilization project was launched experimentally at Emerson in the early 1970s.

ADMINISTRATORS of Granite City School District Nine note with pleasure that youngsters from Emerson and Marshall have held their own with the products of other elementary schools upon reaching the junior high school and high school levels. Marshall is one of the federally designated Title I neighborhood schools.

Marshall teachers for 1984-85 are: kindergarten, Loubelle H. Clements; lower primary grade, Elynn Mae Curtis and Nancy L. Weber; middle primary, Jo Ann Burckly and Marjorie A. Schmitt; upper primary, Ruth P. Buer and Stella R. Davenport.

Lower intermediate, Barbara L. Houston and Lois M. Mullen; middle intermediate, Patricia M. Gowna and Mary A. Reid; upper intermediate, Robert Anderson and Dale C. Ruff.

RESOURCE TEACHERS, Sheila K. Loftus and Mary M. Osterholt.

Remedial mathematics teacher, Constance L. Steffen; remedial reading teacher, Josephine G. Wagoner.

Learning center teacher, Mary Lou Schwab; vocal music instructor, Patricia Michaeloff; and physical education teacher, Norman D. Grote.

WHO'S ON FIRST? Madison County Circuit Judge William E. Johnson, right, draws a lot from the can held by Nameoki Town Clerk Donald "Lise" Ridgeway to determine the placement of two parties running for Nameoki Township positions in the April 2 election. The Citizens' Action Party was chosen to receive placement at the top of the ballot, while the Township Improvement Party will be listed next.

Holidays fail to slow circuit court actions

Madison County Circuit Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell reports that December was a "busy" month, although normally slow due to holidays, in the Circuit Court, Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond Counties).

During December, he notes in his report to the Supreme Court Administrator's Office, 4,224 cases were filed and 4,170 were terminated by the court.

"It was a very productive month as far as time consuming cases were concerned," Portell commented. "Also, the jury division for cases over $15,000, eminent domain and felony cases were productive. The only considerable loss of currency was in the traffic division, which was slowed down by the holidays."

Following are the numbers of each major type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of December.

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Law cases seeking more than $15,000
Jury	51	64	1795
Non-jury	48	13	583
Law cases seeking $1,000 to $15,000
Jury	4	10	291
Non-jury	49	30	545
Other cases
Chancery	27	31	368
Miscellaneous Remedy	27	22	284
Eminent Domain	6	3	53
Mental Health	43	28	18
Divorce	84	96	1079
Family	78	106	2280
Juvenile	42	30	382

Misdemeanor	386	336	3560
Small Claims	413	765	2003
Totals	1,360	1,604	14,921

In the traffic division, 2,448 new cases were filed during December, and 2,237 were terminated, the report shows.

Of the 77 felony cases heard during the month, 53 were convicted of felonies, one was dismissed or transferred on a motion of the defendant, 14 were dismissed or consolidated, eight were reduced on a motion for a misdemeanor or a plea was negotiated, and one was acquitted by a jury.

Guilty pleas during December included two for a Class X felony, one for a Class One felony, 28 for Class Two felonies, 17 for Class Three felonies and five for Class Four felonies.

Felony sentences during the month included 28 persons sent to prisons, 10 receiving periodic imprisonment and a fine, and 15 receiving probation or conditional discharges with periodic imprisonments.

RINGS AND WATCHES TAKEN

A burglar obtained two rings, a portable TV set, silverware, a stereo unit, a radio, two wristwatches and an electric skillet last week at the mobile home of Loretta Allen, 2504 W. 23rd St. In an unrelated burglary, also last week, two teenage boys broke a lock at the fire-damaged Reese Drug Store, 3216 Nameoki Road, and took about $37 from cash registers; the money was recovered and an investigation is continuing.

THIEF STEALS DOORS

Two doors were stolen from a house in the 3300 block of Colgate Drive, being constructed by the vocational building trades class of the Granite City School District, it was reported this week. The front door was torn from the facing and frame and another door was removed from the garage.

Attorney General Hartigan to speak at Explorer Post dinner

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan will be the featured speaker at the Explorer Post 10-4 annual Family Night dinner.

The event will begin at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 27, in the Madison Recreation Center.

"We are very pleased and honored that the attorney general plans to be with us. My only regret is the fact that by the time we have the families of our members, plus our adult committee and supporters, we simply do not have any room for the many people who would like to meet and hear him," Mick Strang, scouting coordinator for the local explorers, said.

February is Boy Scout Month and the local explorers recently were honored nationally as one of the leading law enforcement explorer posts in the nation.

Elected in November 1982, Hartigan took office as the 38th Illinois Attorney General on Jan. 10, 1983. In this capacity Attorney General Hartigan serves as the state's chief legal officer and attorney for the people of Illinois.

Hartigan, 46, brought to the attorney general's office broad experience in both the public service and private sector. From 1976 to 1982, he was senior vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, and was responsible for international banking in the western hemisphere.

As lieutenant governor of Illinois from 1972 to 1976, Hartigan was responsible for the creation in 1973 of the first state cabinet-level Department on Aging in the nation. At 34, the youngest lieutenant governor in the United States, he was elected chairman of the National Association of Lieutenant Governors.

In yet another role at the national level, he was a member of the executive committee of the Council of State Governments.

Hartigan is a nationally acclaimed advocate as attorney general for the elderly, the disabled and for patients suffering abusive practices and treatment in Illinois nursing homes.

He also has been a vigorous proponent of stricter controls on hazardous and toxic wastes in Illinois and has identified some 800 sites statewide in need of cleanup.

Hartigan also created a statewide victims' justice system to aid crime victims who heretofore had lacked legal representation in the criminal justice system.

Attorney General Hartigan is a member of the board of directors of Georgetown University and also serves on the Visiting Committee for Public Policy at the University of Chicago.

Candidate withdraws from aldermanic race

Beverly Schutzenhofer, 2201 Delmar Ave., announced Tuesday that she is withdrawing from the race for Granite City Third Ward alderman.

He would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you who supported me through my efforts to become a candidate for alderman of the Third Ward and those of you who were so kind as to sign my petitions," her letter reads.

"It is with regret that I have to announce that I have withdrawn from the race as alderman due to personal and health reasons."

Mrs. Schutzenhofer's letter also asks that the Third Ward residents support Paul Schuler as mayor and Darlene Laub as township assessor.

NEIL HARTIGAN

Chicago. He holds honorary degrees from Martin Luther King College and Lincoln College.

He and his wife, Marge, have four children: John, Elizabeth, Laura and Bridget. They make their home in the Rogers Park area of Chicago, just two blocks from the home in which the attorney general spent his formative years.

Explorer Post 10-4 is made up of 26 high school and college-age young men who are interested in law enforcement careers.

Open house for New Life Party

The New Life Party of Madison will hold an open house Sunday from 2 until 5 p.m. at the party headquarters, 401 Madison Ave., Madison.

The event was announced Tuesday by Christ Costoff, the campaign manager, who said the event will begin with a "blue ribbon" cutting ceremony.

According to Costoff, having the ribbon blue is symbolic of the party candidates, who are being billed as a "blue ribbon" slate, because of their qualifications.

"Our candidates are all very highly qualified to serve the people of Madison in an honest and responsible way. That's why we say that we have blue ribbon slate," Costoff said.

According to Costoff, he hopes that many people will attend and visit with the candidates, who all will be in attendance.

John N. Belcoff is heading the ticket as a candidate for mayor. He has been city clerk the past 17 years.

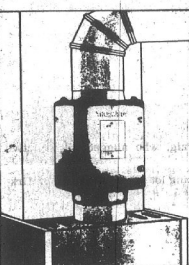

Other candidates on the ticket are William "Bill" Weldner for city clerk, Fred A. Bathon for treasurer and aldermanic candidates, Jim Hillmer, Ward One, Costoff, Ward Two, Don Wilson, Ward Three and the Rev. Charles Rockett, Ward four.

Bowling: a look from the other end of the lanes

WHEN BOWLERS throw the ball down the alley, they assume the automatic pinsetters will quickly reset the pins for them. Actually the $35,000 machines are constantly working, using more than 5,000 working parts are constantly working. Above: pins drop one set into a rack as the rake sweeps off the other set of pins below. Top right: the pin setters appear small to the bowler 60 feet away. Far right: Mechanic Gene Schaffer shows the size of the bowling pins, which weigh 3 pounds, 6 ounces each. Center: A rotating wheel spins the ball out of the pinsetter down the ball return trough. Below: A view from the top of a row of pin setting machines.

The pits: a noisy and busy place

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Bowling...it's easy, right? Just take the ball, roll it down the lanes and knock over all the little pins. A machine down there then clears the lane and sets up a new set of pins.

However, there is more action in the "pits," behind the pin setters, than there is on the lanes, at most times.

The machines that set the pins up actually are complicated machines with more than 5,000 moving parts. The pin setters cost approximately $35,000 each. Inside each machine at any given time are 20 pins, costing nearly $8 each, and for each pin "at work," there is another pin "at rest."

FEW PEOPLE KNOW that bowling pins need to be "rested" in a cool dry place, in a box, for several weeks at a time or the bottles of the 3 pound, 6 ounce pins swell up. The laminated surface on the pins then can crack and break off. It takes a lot of space to rest 640 pins at a time when each pin is 15 inches tall and five inches across.

The serling-coated Voltex pins used at Granite Bowling Center are guaranteed for a year, but the manufacturer suggests they only be used for 5,000 games, then replaced.

At Granite Bowling Center, where there are 32 automatic pin setting machines, between the pins in use and those at rest, a total of 1,280 bowling pins are in service at any given time. At $79 a set of 10, that is about $10,112 worth of pins, not counting the spares (pardon the pun) ready to be put into service if some pins break.

Keeping the 32 pin setting machines in operation requires two full-time mechanics and three "pin chasers," whose primary function is to clear the machines if a pin lodges in the moving parts or something minor goes wrong with the machines.

THE MACHINES have to be rugged. Some bowlers can throw the ball at 55 miles-per-hour into the "curtain" which catches the ball and sends it to the ball return.

Few balls get through the curtains, but when a ball hits the pins at high speed, they fly in several directions and occasionally one will get through the sides of the curtain and "ricochet" around in the pits, making it dangerous, according to Gene Schaffer, the "A" mechanic at Granite Bowl. The noise in the pits during league play, when all machines are operating, is deafening.

With 32 pin setting machines, Schaffer and "B" mechanic George Smith are kept busy trying to keep them in tip-top shape. "If the machines are adjusted right, they will run forever. If they get out of whack, it puts pressure here or pressure there that has to go somewhere and something breaks," Schaffer noted.

THE WORST ENEMY of the mechanic in a bowling alley, as with most mechanics, is faulty bolts, which break off and make any repairs difficult.

Bud Cathey, manager of Granite Bowl, says one of the most important tasks in the lanes is seeing that everything meets the tough standards of the American Bowling Congress (ABC). Pins must weigh precisely 3 pounds, 6 ounces, cannot have their coatings separating from the wood and must meet strict size specifications.

The lanes also are examined by ABC regularly to see that all requirements are met. Costly changes were required recently when the lanes were measured and some were found to be a fraction of an inch too wide.

FAILURE TO keep the alleys and pins up to ABC specifications could nullify a league bowler's perfect 300 score or could disqualify the lanes from sanctioned league play or tournaments.

The bowlers' desires are very important in keeping them bowling there, Cathey says. Granite Bowl uses serling coated bowling pins, rather than laquer pins, because "many bowlers prefer them. They say they score better," Cathey says.

Likewise, the amount of oil put on the lanes before each night of league play is determined by the preference of the bowlers.

EVEN THE speed at which the pin setting machines operating is calculated to please the bowlers. Schaffer says the machines, each of which is operated by just a one horsepower electric motor, can be operated on 115, 208 or 230 volts and then be speeded up or slowed down with different pulleys. "These machines are Jet Packs, which speed up the game," Schaffer said.

The 208-volt current is used at Granite Bowl, "because it is more efficient," Schaffer added.

Watching the machines operate is interesting. Starting with the crash of the ball into the curtain and the smashing of pins together and into the back of the machine, a chain reaction is triggered. Pins are swept back into a moving circular wheel which grabs them one at a time and rotates them upward, where they drop into a trough and slide downward into a revolving rack which prepares them for the next pin setting sequence.

The ball also is rotated upward, rolls onto a high speed roller and is ejected at high speed from the machine down the ball return track.

REPAIRS TO the machines can be dangerous, Schaffer says, although there are several safety features designed to keep a mechanic from getting his head caught in the moving parts. "You still have to be careful. The rake (which clears the pins off the lane) can break an arm or your hand can get caught in the turret," Schaffer warned.

There also are numerous moving belts and pulleys to catch clothing or careless fingers, he said.

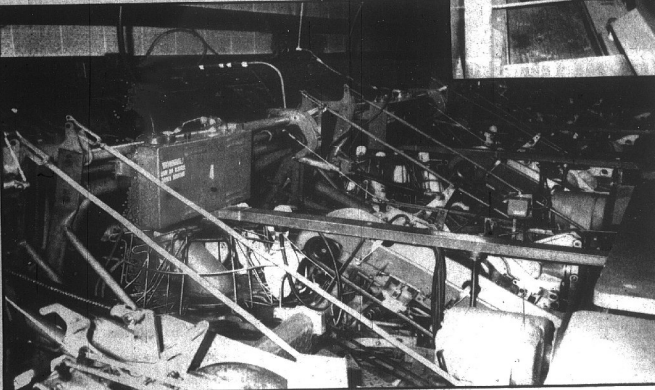

The next time you go bowling may be a little more interesting, knowing that there is a bit more to it than picking up a nine or 10-pound ball, throwing it 60 feet down the lane, knocking down the little pins and having the machine set them back up again.

FOR THE many people who make their livings in bowling alleys, it is a serious business. A lot of work and constant checking assure that the next time you are bowling, not only will the pin setting machine operate properly and not chew up your bowling ball, but, should you bowl that 300 game you have been dreaming about, the lanes and pins you used will be certified by ABC the next day and you will receive that 300 ring, that check for a perfect game and all of the recognition and prizes that go with that achievement.

To those responsible, bowling is more than just a game.

Commodity frauds can sound convincing

Looking to make a lot of money with little or no risk? Understand that big profit opportunities must be acted on immediately or they will be missed.

This may seem like blatantly obvious bait, but chances are a really good professional swindler will not use these same questions. Victims of commodity can men almost invariably say "He seemed so nice, and sounded so nice."

Seemingly nice and sounding honest is precisely how telephone swindlers make their living. "They have the ability to make you think you've inherited a rich uncle's fortune and all you have to do is pick up the check," warns Robert K. Wilmoth, president of National Futures Association. NFA is a futures industry self-regulatory organization that is working with federal and state authorities in a coordinated effort to wipe out commodity fraud.

While tougher regulation can help put commodity criminals out of business, Wilmoth acknowledges that regulation alone isn't enough. He points out that individuals and firms peddling bogus investments in such things as precious metals and pins simply set up their "boiler room operations" in states and areas where there is the least regulation. And, if authorities become too curious, they move somewhere else.

"Investment crooks will continue to lie and steal until more people learn to recognize and reject their slick sales pitches," Wilmoth insists. He adds the best way to separate a swindler from someone calling from a reputable investment firm is by asking questions, and by watching for telltale signs that an investment proposal may not be on the up-and-up.

The very first thing to find out is what regulatory supervision the caller's firm must satisfy. Persons interested in the offering should not settle for evasive answers or attempts to quickly change the subject.

Given the name of some organization, a person should write or phone to check out the company making the investment offer. A postage stamp or phone call is a small cost to pay to avoid being bilked out of thousands of dollars.

Some men say they are members of official-sounding organizations that turn out to be nonexistent. Or the organization may be nothing more than a sham designed to give its members the appearance of legitimacy.

Firms selling investments in bona fide futures contracts must, by law, be registered with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and be a member of National Futures Association. Sales of securities are regulated by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and state securities commissions.

If a firm can not be verified by one or more of these agencies or organizations, that, in itself, should serve as a warning.

Another warning signal is a caller's insistence that a particular investment must be made immediately. Some callers may push for a same-day deal. A good rule of thumb is that any investment that has to be made immediately probably shouldn't be made at all.

The National Futures Association has prepared a card listing the names, addresses and phone numbers of regulatory organizations available for inquiries about investment offers received by phone or mail. It's free. To obtain one, interested persons may write: Regulatory Checklist, National Futures Association, 200 West Madison St., Chicago, Ill., 60606.

Applications for silver savers here

Senior citizens, 60 years or older, living in Chouteau Township can obtain Silver Savers Passport applications at the Chouteau Township office, 609 N. Thorngate Drive during regular business hours, according to Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks.

The nation wide program is designed for senior citizens to make application for an identification card and they will also receive a discount directory, free, the supervisor added.

Applicants must show proof of age when signing up such as a drivers license or other legal document. They should be completed by Feb. 10 as that is the date the documents will be sent to Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging for processing, Sparks explained.

STOLEN, WRECKED, LOOTED

The 1976 van of Cory McConnell, 3235 Edgewood Ave., was stolen last week from the Bellemore Village Shopping Center parking lot and was found several hours later in the Chouteau Island area, where the vehicle had been wrecked and looted.

Anti-utility data in next electric bills

The 650,000 customers of Illinois Power Company will find something unusual when they open their electric bills in February. A flyer from the Citizens Utility Board — featuring a beleaguered consumer being chased up a graph of the increasing costs of the Clinton power plant by a nuclear cooling tank — will accompany each bill.

"CUB is taking a major role in fighting a proposed $139 million rate hike by Illinois Power and needs help from IP customers to win the case," said CUB Director of Public Relations Claude Walker. "The flyer is designed to catch consumers' eyes and show them they can fight back against unnecessary utility rate increases."

The CUB flyer in IP bills is the first in a series of membership recruitment flyers that will be included in utility bills throughout 1985.

The law creating the CUB allows the consumer advocacy group to put literature in utility bills four times each year. The last membership campaign recruited 70,000 members.

Susan Stewart, administrative and program director of CUB, said admissions by company witnesses during days of cross-examination revealed that higher rates are not needed to keep the company financially solvent.

"She accused IP of trying to do an end-run around another Illinois Commerce Commission proceeding which is considering the question of how much of the Clinton power plant should be phased into rates and over what period of time."

"IP. Power has argued that it needs the rate boost to maintain its financial integrity," she said. "But company witnesses admitted that even with the rate hike, they could not achieve the bond rating they seek."

"IP is only seeking a rate hike now to prevent 'rate shock' when Clinton finally comes on line. It is CUB's position that the only way to prevent rate shock is by banning the pass-through of cost overruns at Clinton to ratepayers, not by imposing premature rate hikes."

In a separate proceeding, the ICC is examining the question of whether all the costs associated with the construction of Clinton were prudently incurred and with charges should be passed to customers.

"IP is trying to short-circuit that by getting approval of $60 million in CWIP now. Construction work in progress, or CWIP is the practice of allowing utilities to charge plant construction costs to customers before the plant is finished."

"CUB will present testimony in February challenging the need for Illinois Power's $139 million request. Our experts have found that no increase is warranted at this time."

Bridges weak link in region

The nation's infrastructure is beginning to crumble, and the weakest link in this region's transportation network is the series of deteriorating Mississippi River bridges.

This was the view voiced in Granite City last week by Les Stermann, executive director, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, to the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors.

He said the Poplar Street Bridge is overloaded, the MacArthur Bridge is closed and the King, Eads and McKinley bridges all need to be repaired.

Stermann said Illinois has prime development sites 15 to 20 minutes from the nucleus of the bi-state metropolitan area but that, due to unfamiliarity with Metro-East assets, developers are favoring Missouri locations an hour or an hour and a half away.

He urged expansion of Illinois airports and called for renewed support of a light rail system proposed to link East St. Louis and Lambert Airport, saying Granite City and Belleville ultimately would be connected with it.

BATTERED WOMAN SIGNS COMPLAINT AGAINST MAN

Colleen C. Sanders, of 1327 Meridian Ave., signed a complaint against her former friend last week after he allegedly struck her repeatedly in the face with his fists. The two were driving in his car in the vicinity of Third Street and Madison Avenue, when the argument occurred. She was treated for her injuries at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

MAN PURSUED, ARRESTED

Pursued by a Shop 'N Save grocery store employee, by a police car and then by an officer on foot last week, James D. Murphy III, 22, of 5554 Parkway Drive was caught in front of Niedringhaus School and booked for taking pork steaks worth $4 and resisting arrest. The meat was located near the 2900 block alley between Grand Avenue and State Street. He was freed five hours later on $102 bail.

Zoo 'parents' program a unique Valentine idea

"Due to the success of Noah, the animal kingdom's most famous matchmaker, the St. Louis Zoo's Parent Program has an 'ark' full of animals waiting to be adopted for as little as $10 each. Your tax-deductible donation to the Parent Program will provide your Valentine with a gift that gives pleasure year round" according to a spokesman for the zoo.

"Where else but at the St. Louis Zoo can one find such unique Valentine's messages as: 'I'm not LION, I'm crazy about you.' 'Can't you SEA LION's not for me. I love you,' or 'Let me PUMA arms around you and hold you tight.' And, at the same time continue Noah's worthwhile endeavor by providing food for the many residents of the St. Louis Zoo."

"The Valentine's Parent Package includes a Certificate of parenthood, iron-on decal, and his or her name engraved on a plaque located near the Children's Zoo. Adoption also entitles Zoo Parents and their families to attend the annual Parent Picnic at the zoo.

"To insure receipt of the gift package by mail in time for Valentine's Day, adoptions should be made by Feb. 8. Last-minute shoppers may pick up gift packages at the zoo's Administration Building through Feb. 14th. For more information please call the St. Louis Zoo Parent Program at 1-314-647-5880," the spokesman added.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 24th day of January, 1985

(Notary's Seal)

My commission expires Jan. 13, 1988

Attest: Patricia Proxmire, Notary Public

Robert Kennerly elected commander of DAV Chapter

Robert (Bob) Kennerly was elected commander of Quad-Cities Chapter 53, Disabled American Veterans for 1985 at the January meeting. Others elected were: Lawrence McGuire, senior vice commander; Harold Menzel, junior vice commander; Larry Lockhart, treasurer; Ed Roberts, chaplain. The new officers were installed by Andy Gitchoff, the retiring commander.

The new commander appointed Joe Hefferty to serve as adjutant, James Miller to be sergeant-at-arms, Andy Gitchoff, judge advocate, and Larry Lockhart the chapter service officer.

"My goals for 1985 are, to attain the chapter membership goals of 496 set by National Headquarters, to continue to provide first class service for the veterans of our community with the help of our service officer Larry Lockhart, to continue the practice of my predecessor, Andy Gitchoff, of keeping area members aware of proposed legislation, both favorable and unfavorable that affects Disabled Veterans primarily. I will, however, support the objectives of other veteran organizations as circumstances dictate. It appears that we will have our hands full during 1985 with some of the budget balancing proposals coming out of Washington. Each member is urged to read the January issue of the DAV magazine and to follow their recommended letter writing plan," Kennerly said.

It was reported that Louie Pashoff, Thomas Thomas, and Frederic Collins died since the last meeting and that Bill Kmucha will soon be transferred to the Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy, Ill.

Joe Hefferty reported that with the death of three members, the membership now stands at 423. National Headquarters is working on a new plan designed to attract new members but they don't know any details of the plan yet, he added.

A donation to Boy Scouts Explorer Post 10-4 was approved by the members. This donation will allow Post 10-4 to participate in a training conference at Champaign, Ill. during August. It was noted that Fried rabbit was served to those attending the meeting.

FLYING PROUDLY. A lone bald eagle, symbol of our nation, flies majestically over the Mississippi River last week near Granite City. Its pure white head and tail an obvious sign of its species. This was one of more than 20 bald eagles sighted along the river near here. A large population of hawks also was sighted in the same area. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Alcohol-chemical dependency intervention classes offered

By ANITA JONES

The philosophy of Talbot Hall is to provide chemical dependency intervention and treatment services for the total family.

At present, there is a need to intervene earlier in the disease of chemical dependency before job, family and other support systems are lost through the progression of the disease. Talbot Hall provides intervention classes to prepare family members to create the very crisis that the alcoholic/chemically dependent has been avoiding.

To intervene, it is necessary to bring together all family members in a unified and systematic manner to confront the alcoholic/chemically dependent concerning the progression of the disease and the need for treatment.

We believe at Talbot Hall that the progressive nature of chemical dependency requires that intervention be applied at the earliest time for two reasons, namely:

1. The suffering to the chemically dependent person and family is limited in both time and degree.
2. The likelihood of successful recovery is enhanced.

For intervention to be successful, families are requested to attend Talbot's Family Education Series.

The purpose of the Family Education Series is to provide education and show how chemical dependency directly affects family functioning.

The series will consist of four, 2 1/2-hour sessions in Pascal Hall from 6:30 p.m. Each session will entail a lecture and a film or videotape, followed by a discussion period. Family members and individuals affected by chemical dependency-related life problems may enter the series at any session.

Following completion of the Family Education Series, family members will be requested to attend two intervention classes.

Intervention classes will be conducted on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 3, immediately following completion of the family series. During the intervention classes, participants will:

1. Watch a film on actual intervention.
2. Learn about enabling behavior.
3. Chart behaviors of the chemically dependent person.
4. Develop reaction sheets.
5. Role play.
6. Intervene with the alcoholic/chemically dependent person.

If interested, persons may contact Anita Jones at Talbot Hall, 798-3069.

Special education office at new site

Madison County Special Education Region I—serving the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts—has completed its move to the Granite City School District Nine headquarters building at 20th and Adams streets.

The special education staff formerly occupied part of the Granite City Township Building, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue. The township had made the space available for seven years in return for use of the former Central Junior High School site, on which the town building was constructed after Central was razed.

Those making the move included Steven M. Balen, director of special education; William Stuart Mills, supervisor of special education; C. Maia Gallaher, Pamela Hantke Glind and Carol Ann Reinking, psychologists; and Jeannette L. Hoedebecke and Sonya K. Ohanessian, secretaries.

There was room in the District Nine offices because the size of the district's administrative staff has been reduced in recent years. Granite City is the administrative district for the special education region, one of three in this county.

GULF REFUND APPLICATION PERIOD EXTENDED TO MARCH

The U.S. Department of Energy has announced a deadline extension until March 31, 1985, for receiving refund applications from resellers, retailers and consumers of Gulf Oil Corp. petroleum products purchased from Aug. 19, 1975, through Jan. 31, 1976.

Refunds will be paid from funds obtained by the Department of Energy from Gulf as a result of a consent order. Because refunds are $1.22 per 1,000 gallons, small consumers may not find it worthwhile to file applications. Information on how to apply may be obtained by contacting Thomas O. Mann, Deputy Director, Office of Hearing and Appeals, U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Ave., SW, Washington, D.C. 20585.

Pioneer families traced through area historical cemeteries

Mrs. Ruth Jensen completed extensive research on locations of area cemeteries and presented the historical data at the January meeting of the Old Six Mile Historical Society held at Central Christian Church.

"Cemetery research may supply the only clue to a lost generation in a family. Early vital statistics records generally are incomplete; many Bible records are lost or lay forgotten in attics, and newspaper files before 1900 are incomplete and their obituaries sketchy. Data from cemeteries fill this gap, but their usage depends on their availability and completeness. Cemeteries with records are easy for the genealogist, but the abandoned or rural cemeteries where no formal records exist are more difficult," Mrs. Jensen explained.

Mrs. Jensen continued, "cemeteries in the Old Six Mile area, Wanda or Old Salem Cemetery is one of the oldest landmark closely connecting the present with the early settlement of Chouteau Township."

In 1834 Abner Dunnagan set apart two acres to be used as a public burying ground. The first burial was for Nellie Gillham and one week later, Anna Dunnagan was buried, both in 1834. Four soldiers of the Revolution, Thomas, James, John and Isaac Gillham, sons of Thomas the first, were buried in Chouteau Township. Each one was buried on his respective farm except John who was buried at Wanda. Now all the Gillhams who fought in the Revolution

War are at Wanda Cemetery.

In 1867 Sarah M. Dunnagan deeded the two acre plots to the trustees of the Salem Methodist Episcopal Church to be used as a cemetery. The wars represented in Wanda include Revolutionary War of 1812, Mexican War, Civil War, World War I and World War II. However there are more veterans of the Revolutionary War there than in any Madison County cemetery, Mrs. Jensen said.

For many years the cemetery, while used as a burying ground was sadly neglected, but in 1893 a society was formed to care for and improve that area. In 1912 the Mite Society was still in active existence and helped the old cemetery to present a fairly well kept appearance. Additional land was purchased from Harry Pong, who owned the original Abner Dunnagan farm, to enlarge the cemetery.

During this era the Mite Society annually on or near the first Sunday in May, met in the cemetery and held memorial services consisting of a few songs and a sermon. Now the old bandstand has been torn down and the cemetery is under perpetual care.

Land for the Mitchell St. Elizabeth Cemetery was donated by John and William Mitchell in 1870, for whom the town was named. The brothers donated some land for a Protestant church also to the builders of St. Elizabeth's with the understanding that the churches stayed active for 10 years and then the land was theirs to keep.

St. Elizabeth's Church fulfilled this request and the first recorded death in that cemetery is that of Eva Hermann, age 18, who died on Jan. 7, 1877. However, there were stones found in the old church cemetery on Old Route 66 noting a few deaths before this recorded one.

Quoting from St. Elizabeth Parish 1871-1971 one stone dates back to 1870 that of F. Xavier Lohman, and it appears to be the oldest even though it is not recorded. There are many recorded deaths during 1904-05 and it is felt that this increase was either associated with or directly caused by the flood of 1904. Records show about 65 deaths at St. Elizabeth Church between 1877 and 1903. Many graves have been moved to Calvary Cemetery in Sunset Hill and the last grave was that of Frank Troeckler in 1942.

St. John's Cemetery now located at 2901 Nameoki Road, of St. John United Church of Christ, came about on June 28, 1882 when a small group of pioneer Christians met in the "woods," formerly Central School three miles east of Granite City to organize a congregation for the German Protestants of the community. At this meeting the German Christian Church of Six Mile Prairie came into being with 14 members.

In 1884 the congregation purchased three acres at a cost of $483 for a new cemetery. The first person buried there was Amelia Gieselman in Feb. 1883, and three children from the same family.

The cemetery has extended to 36 acres at the present time.

The Old Ebenezer Cemetery in Chouteau Township is one of neglect and is in a state being extinguished since no one is in charge of taking care of the area. Apparently it was first known as Ebenezer Ridge as it was the highest land around and was sought as a place to establish the meeting house, a school and also burial ground. The church and school have long been gone.

Mrs. Jensen said she and her husband, Hans and Virginia Segar visited the cemetery in December and found it in worse condition than they thought. They determined the oldest person buried there was William Atkins who was born Jan. 27, 1798 and buried on Feb. 3, 1872.

Another family cemetery in the Quad-City area is the Odd Fellows Cemetery that is located in a dense jungle of trees and vegetation on Schuler Road, north of the A. O. Smith Plant and is on the farm of Richard Bauer.

Several tombstones bear the name of Atkins and they are believed to be members of the family of a Captain Atkins who surveyed the Mississippi River for the U.S. Government soon after the county won its independence.

A story told by a descendant of an older resident of Granite City, which cannot be verified here, relates that the government was too broke at the time to pay Capt. Atkins and others a salary for their work, so it issued land grants and the captain selected an area along the Illinois banks of the Mississippi River which extended from Cahokia to Hartford. In 1965 it is believed that 80 acres remain in the original Atkins estate.

Other names include those of Dr. Tyler J. Irish, born July 28, 1823 and died Aug. 24, 1893, and his wife, Lucinda who was born July 25, 1830 and died, 11, 1895. They were preceded in death by seven children.

Dr. Irish operated the first drug store in Nameoki and also was the first postmaster of the village. He was a charter member of Six Mile Lodge, and he represented the township as supervisor in 1877-78. While on his professional rounds he was accidentally thrown from his buggy and died of the injuries.

There is a large stone for Dr. Garrison Austin, one of the leading pioneers of the American Bottom. He was born Jan. 26, 1814 and came to this area from Indiana in 1843. For 20 years he had an office country practice, and on May 29, 1848, he married Mary E. Segar, a great-aunt of Virginia Segar. Dr. Austin died at age 49.

The last burials are there were Catherine Braden, 1920, Philip Braden, 1922, Mary Stevenson, 1922, John W. Segar, 1915, Josephine Segar, 1917, Lucy Morrison, 1932, and Thomas Beal, 1932. The oldest person buried in this location is probably Eli Pettigill born April 19, 1782, Mrs. Jensen noted.

In concluding her presentation Mrs. Jensen traced history of family burial plots beginning with Squire Cemetery. This section was located in the field west of Odd Fellows Cemetery and lists the oldest burial being that of Amos Squire who was born Sept. 15, 1774 and buried on Aug. 12, 1825. The latest burial was Amos Squires 11 born Jan. 27, 1818 and died March 25, 1889.

The Hayes family burial plot is in Nameoki Township west of Old Alton Road on the Schuler farm. It is a mound of earth covered with weeds and no stones are visible. There are six recorded burials with the first one in 1845 and the last one in 1862.

Another family cemetery is that of the Harmer family who buried their relatives in a section two blocks south of Pontoon Road on ADM road near Granite City. Besides the railroad tracks is a small mound of earth, overgrown with saplings and day lilies. At one point in time, the Alton and Southern Railroad split the site.

The land was once owned by William Harmer, who was one of 14 pioneers credited with starting the German Christian Independent Church of Six Mile Prairie, forerunner of St. John United Church of Christ. There were eight burials, two babies, two children and four adults with the first record listing the date of 1868 and the last burial was in 1891.

About 500 feet north of Arlington Heights Road, near Walter Handhelders is the Hardkore Cemetery in a group of trees and partially surrounded by a wrought iron fence

Matthew 8:7 - "And Jesus said, I will come and heal him."

I pray for a way to convince my mind to believe that God is no respecter of persons. He loves us all in the same measure. He loves good people and He loves bad people. The Bible message is clear. He died to save sinners.

Jesus will come to you in your need. If you are sick, He will heal you. If you are depressed, He will lift you. In sorrow, He will comfort you. Christ's own words are, "If any man come to me, I will in no wise cast him out."

You do not have to go anywhere to find Christ. Only open your heart and ask him to come to you.

Surely you will hear him say, "I will come."

WINTER HAZARD # 1

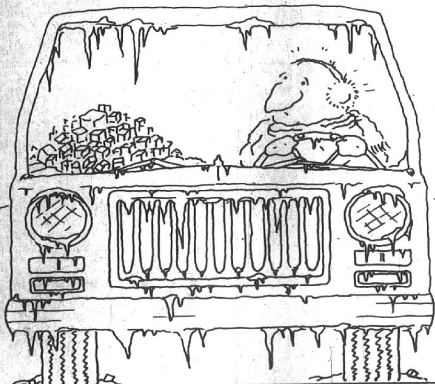

COLD

Cold is the natural enemy of cars. It creeps into the car's unsuspecting systems, slowing responses and weakening the will. Sometimes the car fails to start at all. Persons whose cars have less-than-perfect heaters find cold comfort in their travels. Why not give the cold shoulder to that hunk of cold steel? You can do it by making a simple change: Ride the bus! Well-known for year-round reliability and stout heaters that are in full operation before you board, the bus also gets you any number of places you need to go, for a very low price. Be a friend to your car. This winter, warm up to the bus.

Cadets sting Warriors with third-period goals

By JOE THOMPSON

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — With the playoffs approaching, the Granite City High club hockey Warriors learned a lesson they would do well to take with them after absorbing a 6-3 loss to CBC Monday night.

When you put your opponent on the ropes, knock 'em out.

As it was, CBC's Cadets delivered the knockout blow, overturning a 3-2 deficit with four goals in the final five and one-half minutes to snatch victory before a large crowd at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

It was an important triumph for the Cadets. With a 10-7 record, the Cadets need just one win in their final two regular season outings to reach the playoffs.

The Warriors, in turn, already had secured a playoff berth, having skated to the North Division crown with a 10-0 record. The defeat Monday was only their second against 18 victories.

In losing, the Warriors could take consolation in that CBC represented the caliber of opposition they'll likely face when post-season play begins Feb. 7.

"I don't bemoan the loss at all," Warrior coach Garry Henson said. "I think it will make us stronger."

Still, defeat, no matter how it comes wrapped, generally leaves a sour taste.

With that, Henson looked back to the opening minutes of the game, when the Warriors stormed CBC goalkeeper Roger Beckman, but came away empty-handed. That might have been where victory slipped away, Henson mused.

"We should have had two goals,"

Henson said. "Two right there in the first two or three shifts... we would've been down and we would've been on a roll."

The fort still standing, the Cadets marshaled an assault of their own. It paid off slightly over four minutes into the first period when Jay Wind slipped the puck past Warrior keeper Collins Harlan.

THE WARRIORS countered quickly. The blink of an eye — 21 seconds off the scoreboard clock — Steve Stegelmeier backhanded a shot into the CBC net.

Perhaps the game's most spectacular play came minutes later, and it resulted in a Warrior go-ahead goal.

At the same time Moore gained control of the puck, forward Dave Yurkovich stepped onto the ice. Moore's pass found him perfectly for a clear break. Yurkovich successfully completed his end of the play: 2-1 Warriors.

The Cadets quickly countered, however, with a goal by John Buchanan.

THE SCORE remained 2-2 through the first five minutes of the final period. The Warriors took the lead — and appeared as if they were on their way to victory. Dave Wilmouth tucked a shot past Beckman following a pass from Yurkovich. Moore set up the play with a slap shot from the point.

With just over five minutes to play, the Cadets squared matters, 3-2, on a goal by Quirk.

Collins Harlan, the Warriors' sophomore goaltender, made a great stop moments later off a Cadet breakaway keeping the game even.

But it portended of bad times. The Cadets closed with a rush and a flurry of three goals.

"THE ROOF," Henson said, "fell in on us."

"We outplayed them the first 36 minutes. They just outplayed us the last five minutes."

Cadet coach Rick Kennedy counted the number of breaks good and bad. The Cadets, he said, got most of the good.

"The breaks decided this game," he said.

Perhaps the biggest took place in the Warrior zone. The Cadets took advantage of a Warrior miscue, and it led to the go-ahead score.

"Giveaways in our defensive zone? I imagine Jacques DeMers (coach of the hockey Blues) complains about giveaways."

The Warriors held the statistical edge in shots, 29-24, and other good things, too.

"If we get CBC in the playoffs," Henson was saying, "I'll still take our chances."

Girls' Basketball

Warriors lose to relentless Comanches

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — Multi-dimensional basketball teams. A team that is will more often beat a team than lose.

According to Granite City High School girls' basketball coach Gordon Galbreath, that was the difference in Tuesday night's basketball game here, a game the local girls dropped to the Comanches 55-26.

"Missed shots," Galbreath said. "It's pretty tough to win when you miss as many lay-up opportunities as we did. But, they're really a good team. They've got so many ways to beat you. Their big girl (6-foot-3-inch senior center Debbie Avery) played well and they've got some fine outside people as well."

IT WAS that inside-outside combination, that proved lethal to the Warriors as they lost their ninth game in 11 attempts this season. The victory improved Cahokia's record to 2-5.

Cahokia's Avery led all scorers with 18 points while April Jennings, the Comanches 5-foot-9-inch junior forward, pumped in 16 points, most of them from the perimeter. In all, six Comanches found a way to tally points for Cahokia's cause.

For the Warriors it was a different case.

Granite City managed to get three of its starting five to score. Beyond those three — Debbie Brandt with 10, Loretta Cox with nine and Maria Toniskoester with six — the Warriors had no offense.

EVEN ALICIA Melton, the Warriors' leading scorer with a game-high 22 points and an 18-point per game average, was unable to register a point. Her first game back after a three-game absence because of an ankle injury, the normally hot Melton couldn't find her mark.

"It's my ankle. I guess maybe I'm still a little wanky of it. I'm just not shooting well," she said.

Her left ankle, Melton explained that it's her plant foot each time she shoots. Until she feels confident with her shooting, she probably will suffer, she said.

"WHAT WE need to win is a fine game from everyone," Galbreath said. "We're just not all playing at one time. There are moments when one of the girls will shine, but she's not Bradley's team. Webster played well. We've got to get everyone playing basketball at the same time."

Despite the lopsidedness of the final score, the game was actually much closer — at least in the early going.

Brandt registered the game's first points, about a minute and a half into the contest, when she pumped in a jumper from eight feet out.

Following a Cahokia timeout, the Comanches began a steady roll that lasted throughout the game.

JENNINGS tied the game slightly more than a minute later as she banked a shot in off the glass. And then, less than a minute later, Jennings put the Comanches up by two, 4-2, with an identical banker. Granite City never led again.

For the remainder of the first quarter, Avery, Jennings and Sue Coleman pummeled the Warrior goal. Cox was the only Warrior to add to Granite City's tally as she hit two free-throws with 15 seconds remaining in the initial stanza.

In the second quarter the Warrior offense began to click, scoring 12 to Cahokia's 15, but by halftime the local girls still trailed by 11, 27-16.

THE THIRD and fourth quarters were as a disastrous second half of basketball as the Warriors have played this season. Scoring four points the third quarter and five the fourth, the Warriors' output fell far behind that of Cahokia's which saw the Comanches put 22 second-half points on the board, 14 in each quarter.

"We had hope to get their big girl (Avery) to foul out in the second half, and then begin playing more of our kind of ball. But we just couldn't get her to foul. At least not in time for us to do anything about it," Galbreath said.

Avery had four fouls. One more and she would be forced to watch the rest of the game from the bench.

When Avery finally committed her final offense, there was just 4:22 remaining in the final quarter, too little time for the Warriors to mount any sort of comeback.

"We tried to get Debbie (Brandt) to get her to draw a foul, but even that didn't work. Not until the end anyway," Galbreath said.

When Avery did go out it was Brandt who she fouled. Brandt responded to Avery's exit by sinking both ends of the one-and-one situation.

"WE'RE 7-5 now, but I want you to know that four of those losses were to Alton and East St. Louis, two of the best clubs around," said Comanche Coach But Clemens. "The other two losses were early, teams that we've since beaten. So, yes, we think we're a good ball club. One with a lot of talent and one that I think gets better with each passing game."

Clemens certainly wouldn't get any argument from the Warriors about that.

A Commentary

GCHS Hockey: A role reversal

By JOE THOMPSON

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — 12-2. I suppose that was the score — or something like it — just as ridiculous — I first remember the hockey Warriors dishing out this season.

I never paid that much attention to the hockey team. When the score came across, I figured it was just one of those cases when the Warriors were hot and the other team wasn't.

I mean, 12-2. That's quite a pasting.

I remember the other scores: 13-1 and 10-1 and 12-1. There were the three straight shutouts. The 10-3 score only last weekend.

It seemed trendy for the Warriors to demolish their opponents. The Warriors were like Dan Marino. They set a scoring record every time out.

It was difficult to imagine one team being that much better than another.

You tried digesting the differences in the shots on goal. Those, too, were statistical mismatches.

I remember the first time the Warriors surpassed 40 shots on goal. That's roughly one shot per minute in the Mid-Sixes League — one more time those 60 seconds an opposing goalkeeper had to swallow hard while a Chris Carden or Mark Donif or Steve Stegelmeier bored down his stick high over his head before bringing it thundering down for a shot from the point.

IT DIDN'T seem to matter that time when the Warriors skated without three of their regulars — two of whom were in Washington, D. C. watching the President swear to do his best for our country over another four-year stretch.

There might have been some thinking. "Well, let's see how they do now."

That's how they did. After awhile, it wasn't so much the Warriors kept winning that was startling, but how much they won by.

THEIR won-loss record climbed faster than Willie Greisky's scoring chart. Eighteen and one through last Saturday. Wasn't that the same

San Francisco 49ers posted in the National Football League to set an all-time mark?

You had to be proud, if not a mite embarrassed, at how badly the Warriors were defeating their opponents.

The remarkable thing is it wasn't so long ago the Warriors were on the short end of lopsided goals.

That may be why they played with such fire Monday night.

CBC was at the Wilson Park Ice Rink. They're a good team. They've got a great tradition. Their coach, Rick Kennedy, once played hockey on a very high level: with St. Louis University during those hockey glory days of yesteryear when the Billikens fielded a skating squad.

It was CBC, who early last year, crushed the Warriors, 15-1. Or was it 15-2?

Anyway, they beat them badly and there was even some thought they might have gone off of their way a little to make it more embarrassing than it already was for the Warriors.

IT WAS memories of that which might have provided the Warriors the fuel they needed.

Because they didn't need to defeat

CBC. The Warriors had secured a seat in the playoffs long ago.

On the other hand, CBC still was fighting for a position.

You had to be proud of the Warriors. They matched CBC rink wide pass for rink wide pass; skating rink for skating rink.

There was some great individual efforts. Bill Moore, for instance, flipping the puck from deep in his own zone high in the air over a pressing CBC offense, where it fell practically on the skates of Dave Yurkovich for a breakaway goal.

YOU HAD to be proud of Collins Harlan, the young back-up keeper. He played well. His movements around goal were smooth. Nothing hockey gods might reveal the kind of pressure he was under.

With the score tied late in the third period, 3-3, Collins rose to what then was a game saving situation by making a dazzling glove-hand stop off a Cadet breakaway attempt.

But he isn't Glen Hall. Not yet. He couldn't stop the next breakaway, or the onrush of Cadets.

The teeter-totter that represented the evenness of the two sides throughout most of the game tipped CBC's way.

CBC celebrated joyously after the 6-3 victory. More than anything, it was a tribute to the Warriors. Every Cadet stick raised high in the air — every happy cry of delight — was a salute to just how far the Warriors have come over the year.

"Judging by their reaction at the end," Warrior hockey coach Garry Henson was saying, "I don't think they expected to win."

"In the playoffs, take it easy on us."

Webster, a 6'8" center who earned All-State recognition after averaging 19.3 points and 12.7 rebounds while leading Cairn High School to a third-place finish in the Illinois Class A State Tournament in 1981, joins the Cougars after averaging 9.1 points and 4.7 rebounds per game during the 1983-84 season at Bradley.

A member of Bradley's 1981-82

Missouri Valley Conference and National Invitational Tournament championship team, Webster played along side two NBA standouts, Mitchell Anderson (Utah Jazz) and David Thirkill (Detroit Pistons).

As a freshman, Webster played in 29 games, the second most by a freshman at BU in 35 years. As a sophomore, Webster played in all 29 of Bradley's games and was fourth on the team in scoring (8.6 points), third in rebounding (4.7) and second in field goal percentage (54.2). He also turned in one of Bradley's best single-game performances of the year in 1982-83, scoring 26 points against Wichita State University.

In his final year at BU, Webster led the team in scoring four times, including a 23-point performance against Furman University and a 22-point game against the University of Tulsa. He also led the team in rebounding seven times during the 1983-84 season, which included pulling down nine caroms against Wichita State University.

Webster becomes the second player to transfer to SIUE during the 1984-85 season. Earlier this year, Steve Switzer, a 6'8" sophomore from Belleville East High School, transferred from Southeast Missouri State University. Both players are expected to see their first action following SIUE's first academic terms of the 1985-86 year.

Madison meets Cahokia in opener

HIGHLAND — Although having lost to Cahokia by 14 points just three days ago, Coach Carol Cole and her Trojanette basketball team anxiously anticipate the rematch with the Comanches this Saturday in the first round of the Eighth Annual St. Paul Girls' Basketball Tournament.

"No, we weren't intimidated by them," Cole said early this morning. "Actually, I'm glad we had the opportunity to see them play before the tournament."

The Trojanettes, now 3-4 on the season and led by senior Kim Stanley and Angela Riley, both fine outside shooters.

Should the Trojans upset the fifth seeded Comanches at noon on Saturday, Feb. 2, they will meet the winner of the Weslin vs. Greenville match on Feb. 4 at 5:30 p.m. Weslin is seeded fourth in the 16-team tournament.

The Trojans, last year's third-place finish, have quite a task on their hands this year. Unseeded, the Trojanettes will have to contend with the likes of top-seeded Edwardsville, second-seeded Mater Dei and third-seeded Highland High. Other seeds in the tourney include: Weslin, fourth; Cahokia, fifth; Triad, sixth; Assumption, seventh, and Carlyle eighth.

The tournament, which begins this Saturday at 9 a.m., lasts for nine days. The championship match is slated for next Saturday, Feb. 9, at 3 p.m.

Leading the pack for No. 1 seed Edwardsville is center, Elaine Olney, Paula Rozyczyk and Ann Nelson. Number 2 seed, Mater Dei is led by single-season tournament scoring champion, Barbara Perkes, who is only a junior. She is joined by backcourt mate Shelley Ethridge. The Knights were runners-up last year. 1983 Champion, Highland, returns with tournament rebounding

Illini-Gateway Basketball Sixer-like Devils stop Eagles

By ELDON WARFIELD
of the Press-Record

VENICE — The Venice Red Devils looked more like the Philadelphia 76ers Tuesday night as they completely ran over the Livingston Eagles, 99-68. The win upped Coach Clinton Harris' cagers to 16-3 overall, but more importantly, the Red Devils are in sole possession of first place in the Illini Gateway Conference with a perfect 4-0 record. The loss dropped Livingston into second place with a 3-1 mark in conference play and 8-8 overall.

It was a matchup of the only two undefeated teams in the Illini Gateway Conference and, on paper, looked like it could be a close game. Venice soon put all doubts to rest as they jumped out on top from the very beginning and never looked back.

THE FIRST quarter was all Venice as they pressured the Livingston guards all over the court. Less than three minutes into the game, Eagle coach, Ron Hampton called a time out in an effort to slow down the fast-paced Red Devils, who were out to a four point lead, 10-6.

Venice had some plans of their own. While Livingston's guards began to handle the press better, it was the Red Devils' mid-court trap that forced turnovers enabling them to outscore the Eagles 16-4 in the final five minutes of the first quarter.

Damon Harris and Jesse Hall were the main perpetrators as they fired in 18 of Venice's 28 first frame points.

THE SECOND quarter started off with several exchanges of baskets and then Livingston began to chip away at the lead. But with the lead narrowed to 34-24, the Eagles ran out of gas.

The Red Devils rattled off 11 unanswered points, courtesy of Harris, Hall and teammate Victor Jackson. When the half ended, Harris, Hall and Jackson had accounted for 45 of Venice's 54 points.

When the second half resumed, the Eagles found themselves down by 23 points, 54-31. That was a deficit too large to overcome, but Livingston fought courageously against the faster Red Devils.

THE EAGLES only fell off pace by eight points in the second half, only to lose 99-68.

Jeff Augustine pumped in 26 points to lead Livingston scorers, followed by Chuck Lett with 20 points, Paul Pogue with 14, and Barret Vogel with eight points. Venice defenders held the Eagles to only four scorers.

"I think our defense and shot blocking intimidated them a little," stated Venice head coach Clinton Harris.

But it wasn't the defense that won the game, it was the barrage of offensive rebounding and fast breaks that paced the Red Devil attack. Four players hit double figures for Venice, Hall led scorers with 26 followed closely by Jackson with 24 and Harris with 21. Charles Milton added 15 points to the Venice cause.

VENICE'S decisive win was impressive, but not unexpected. "We had everything to gain and nothing to lose," reflected Eagle coach Ron Hampton. "Venice has never been beaten in an Illini Gateway Conference game."

And from the looks of things Tuesday night, Venice won't lose a conference game this year. Metro East Lutheran High will have different ideas about the Red Devil streak tomorrow at 6 p.m. at Hooks Gymnasium in Edwardsville.

SIUE Wrestler Sears closing on NCAA record

EDWARDSVILLE — Al Sears, the three-time NCAA-II All-American from Wheaton who has rewritten the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling record book for pins, is about to rewrite the NCAA's all-time career mark for falls.

Sears, who broke the SIUE mark as a freshman by pinning 24 opponents, continued to shatter the school record by posting 29 pins as a sophomore and established a new career record with 27 more last year, has run his career total to 100, just six pins away from Wade Schalles' (Clarion State University) NCAA mark of 106.

Sears, who has also run his total of wins to 113 since the 1981-82 season, is expected to become the fourth wrestler in SIUE history to claim four consecutive NCAA-II All-American certificates.

A former third-place finisher in the Illinois State High School Championships while at Wheaton Central, he crashed into collegiate wrestling by finishing second in his first NCAA-II National Tournament. As a sophomore, Sears collected seventh-place honors, while last year he posted a fourth-place performance in the heavyweight bracket.

AL SEARS

This season, his senior year, Sears has jumped out of a 30-4 record and has been recognized by the Amateur Wrestling News as not only the best heavyweight in Division II, but the eighth-best in the collegiate ranks.

Since Sears came to SIUE, the Cougars have finished in the top four of the NCAA-II Championships each year, winning the national title last year with the second highest point total in NCAA-II history, 141.5 points.

In the midst of their longest road trip of the season, the Cougars competed in the Southwest Missouri

State University Invitational, Jan. 25-26. The Cougars also faced Indiana State-Terre Haute Wednesday, Southwest Missouri State Friday, Feb. 1, and Purdue University Sunday, Feb. 3, in dual meet action before returning to the Vandalabene Center for a Feb. 6 match against the Fighting Illini of the University of Illinois.

The Cougars will also serve as the host team for the 1985 NCAA-II Midwest Regional Tournament Feb. 15 in the Vandalabene Center.

SIUE will attempt to defend its national championship, March 1-2, at Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio.

The season ends for the Cougars after the March 13-15 NCAA-I Championships in Oklahoma City, Okla. Finalists from the NCAA-II Championships qualify for the Division I Tournament.

On another Cougar wrestling note, Booker Benford, SIUE's 177 pounder, is ranked the 11th wrestler in the nation in both the NCAA II as well as Division II.

Benford has jumped to a 35-2 record this season and currently leads all SIUE wrestlers with a 141 career wins.

Weslin, the fourth seed, is led by the Brede twins, Kellie and Kerrie.

A newcomer to the tournament, Cahokia, has played well despite double losses to undefeated Alton and Lincoln, one being a 5-point loss.

Defending champion, Triad, is led by an impressive returning front-line of Amy Gire, Mary Kate Long and Rhonda Owens. The Knights usually play well in this tournament.

Assumption could be a sleeper in the tournament. The Pioneers are led by Tamara Jigge and Akila Moody.

Carlyle returns all-tournament team member, 6'2" Joanne Pollman and Cynthia Wessel. The Lady Indians were hurt by the loss of two-time all-tournament guard, Trina Pinnell, who moved to Taylorville. They are paired with Clinton County rival, Central, led by 6'2" Melissa Boeckmann.

Vandalia is led by three-year starter, Meg McKeller.

New entry, Hillsboro, is led by 5'11" Leslie Goldsmith. The host, St. Paul Vikings look to Kay Landmann and Suann Frey for leadership.

O'Fallon, which has upset Belleville West, is led by Julie Stern and Sandy Robella. Bond County member, Greenville looks for scoring from Sherri Flecklin and Beth Beaver.

Okawville looks to make a good tournament showing and is led by Lisa Linker and Jill Weeks.

Bass Club seeks members

The Master Casters Bass Club of the Tri-Cities Area is seeking new members as it begins its 1985 fishing season.

Members are invited to attend a club meeting the first Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m.

Meetings include bass fishing seminars, movies and tournament drawings. A $10 initial entry fee and $3 monthly dues are required. Tournament entry fees are $7.

Persons seeking further information about the Master Casters should call either John Moore at 877-8386 or Bob Hill at 676-0276.

The club has slated eight tournaments for 1985, beginning as early as March 17.

Gymnastic exhibition

A gymnastic exhibition is planned for Saturday, Feb. 16, at the Madison Memorial Center, according to its director, Shirley Greer.

The center, located at Seventh and Lee Streets, will sponsor the exhibition beginning at 7 p.m. Persons participating in the exhibition will be students of Greer's gymnastic class, ranging in age from 6 to 14 years.

Performed to music, the exhibition is free to the public.

Spiroff bowls 300

Mark Spiroff of Granite City managed a feat few people ever do. He bowled a 721 series last month at Bowland Lanes.

But as great a feat as that was, his biggest accomplishment was the manner in which he bowled the series, via a 300 game.

YMCA swimmers get third place

The Tri-City Area YMCA swim team placed third out of eight teams participating at the Belleville Invitational swim meet Sunday, Jan. 27. The local YMCA scored 237.5 points, finishing behind second place YMCA of Southwest Illinois and first place St. Charles YMCA.

Jerry was named the Granite City Center Athlete of the Week for January 21-27. Jerry was selected for his defensive play in the Mineral Area Tournament.

In a 60-56 victory over Washington University's J.V.'s, the 6'6" sophomore effectively shut off the middle by blocking shots and controlling the defensive boards.

Coach Collins commented, "Jerry has had the pressure of being our only big man inside. He has battled on the boards for forty minutes a game when the opposition has often countered with three big inside players. He plays a vital role in our team defense."

Adams is a 1983 graduate of Collinsville High School.

Perform Arts Series offers entertainment for all ages

High-quality, educational entertainment is once again available for audiences of all ages through the Southern Illinois Arts PerformArts Series. Screened and selected by a panel of judges, these talented southern Illinois artists offer a wide variety of affordable entertainment for both school and civic functions, such as club meetings, suppers and ceremonies. Ranging from lively renditions of folk tales to classical piano recitals, the series offers performances of interest to all groups.

Southern Illinois Arts, Post Office Box 3282, Carbondale, Ill., 62902, telephone 1-457-8264, will provide a brochure and information on the artists in the series which includes Donald Beattie, a classical pianist whose programs combine learning and listening enjoyment. From lectures and recitals to music for children, he shares his love and knowledge of music with his audiences.

"Trouble is a One-Eyed Mule" is a collection of Southern Illinois folk tales of ghosts, witches, historical legends and more, as related by actor Jim King. The tales are woven together in an entertaining program.

Lyle and Doris Mayfield perform a blend of traditional Southern Illinois folk songs, tunes from the 1930s and "ties plus their own compositions. In addition, they discuss their music and the instruments they play and build, including the guitar and autoharp.

Taleyo, the Storyteller is a performing artist who involves her audience in the tales she has collected from around the world. Programs are tailored for the needs of different age groups and special subject programs can be arranged on Indian tales, Christmas, literary tales and more.

Greengrass is a five-piece group that performs the music of Great Britain and other nations on traditional instruments, including the pennywhistle, mandolin, concertina, flute and the bodhran, or Irish drum. Their program is performed to educate and entertain at the same time.

The artists in this year's PerformArts series are providing civic and educational groups with talented and entertaining performances to enhance any business meeting, school function or other community program, a spokesman said.

Gift will help fund new building at Parks College

General Dynamics Corporation has made a $250,000 commitment to St. Louis University's Resources for the Future campaign, according to the Rev. Thomas R. Fitzgerald, president of the university.

More than one-half of the total gift has been designated for the proposed Convocation Center on the Parks College campus in Cahokia, reflecting General Dynamics' interests in the aerospace and avionics industries.

Parks College President Fitzgerald pointed out, "founded in 1927 and an integral part of the University since 1946, has been in the forefront of training students for the aerospace industry for more than half a century. The new major in avionics at Parks College is the first of its kind in the nation."

Now at capacity enrollment with more than 1,000 students, Parks has been operating for some time with limited facilities for student activities. Convocations, lectures, graduation ceremonies, concerts and theatrical presentations and campus social events are planned for the new structure.

At present, facilities for such student activities are limited to a student lounge area housed in a converted World War II hangar and government surplus building which serves as a gymnasium and is used for trimesterly graduation ceremonies.

Phase I of the Convocation Center is expected to cost $1,500,000.

Taylor was booked for driving under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an injury crash, driving with an expired license, using an improper traffic lane and driving a car without a valid registration. At a hearing last week, he pleaded innocent and his bond was set at $8,000.

ARREST AT CLOSING TIME

Arrested for battery last week at Sammy's Tavern, 921 Niedringhaus Ave., Ronald Dalton, 34, St. Louis, allegedly used a fist to strike an employee, Leo Nighossian, who was attempting to close the tavern.

Amendments proposed for the Madison County Ordinance will be discussed during a public hearing at 9 a.m. Monday, Feb. 4, in the Madison County Board room.

Under the proposed amendments of any type would be prohibited, and rock concerts or any other similar outdoor activity would need a special use permit. So would massage parlors.

Discs for television reception would become a permitted use in all zoning districts. The current law doesn't mention discs.

Requirements for the surfacing of off-street parking and parking at storage and display areas would be less restrictive under the changes.

In three zoning districts, use of freight cars or large trailers would be allowed for storage, with a special use permit for the latter.

The Madison County Board's Land Use Committee and the county Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct the hearing on the county's zoning ordinance involves only unincorporated areas of Madison County.

2 to be freed in fatal robbery

Chief Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson took steps Tuesday to free two Alton men charged with slaying James Harris. They are in prison for robbing a clothing store owner who was slain during the robbery.

Ferguson said he cut their sentences to 10 years from 15 years because former State's Attorney Don Weber violated a plea agreement with the men.

James Harris, 25, has served six years and Calvin Harris, 24, has served 5½ years, sufficient for release from a 10-year term with good conduct.

The threat of Max Greenfield, 84, was slashed and he died six days later. The brothers pleaded guilty to the January 1976 robbery. Willie Kennedy, Chicago, a relative of the Harrises, is serving 80 years for murdering the Alton merchant.

Judge Ferguson ruled that a 1979 agreement with then State's Attorney Nicholas Byron called for them to testify in the trial against Kennedy by Byron later asking the governor to consider commuting their sentences.

Kennedy was convicted and Weber assailed the duty of requesting commutation. The prosecutor told Gov. James R. Thompson that releasing the brothers could lead to new crimes.

The governor did not commute the terms, and Assistant Public Defender Neil Hawkins contended no formal request was submitted to Thompson's office.

Noting the wording of a letter, Ferguson said Kennedy had been poisoned by Weber's attitude.

In an unrelated case, a jury had found the Harrises innocent of killing Arthur and Edward Hardestad during a home robbery in Alton in April 1976. A relative of the brothers, Zonnie Colium, was convicted of those killings.

Transporting Charge

Edward L. Nagle, 30, of 4906 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol and having improper mufflers when he was arrested last week at Narnook Road and Leonard Avenue. He was released on his signature, pending a March 1 court appearance.

Jewelry, Coins Missing

A gold watch with diamonds on the wristband and assorted silver coins were taken in a burglary at the home of Beverly Ann Hawkins, 44, of 1018 S. 1st St. Intruders forced an entry door and ransacked the bedrooms, dumping items on the floor.

Robert Schuman

Two Quad-City area men have been involved in a NATO-sponsored exercise - REBERGER 1985 - by participating in the Army's return of forces to Germany. The local servicemen are:

Army Private First Class Daniel R. Cormier, son of Daniel Cormier, 454 Walter Ave., who is a mapmaker with the 4th Infantry Division at Fort Carson in Colorado. He is a 1982 graduate of Granite City High School North.

Army Private Robert M. Schuman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Charles) Schuman, 140 Central Ave., Mitchell, a cannon crewman who also is assigned to the 4th Infantry Division at Fort Carson.

Exercise REBERGER 1985 was designed to develop unity of doctrine, standardize procedures for rapid response to a crisis and demonstrate solidarity in commitment to the goals and objectives of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

JOSEPH MORELOCK

Morelock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Morelock Jr., 308 Wilson Park Lane, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

A 1984 graduate of Granite City High School, the local man joined the Marine Corps in March 1984.

Marine Morelock was taught the basics of battlefield survival in the 11-week training cycle and participated in an active physical conditioning program. He also gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill.

He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training period, it was noted.

TERRENCE KING

Navy Seaman Recruit Terrence King, son of Ora L. King of Madison, has completed recruit training at the Navy Recruit Training Command at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, North Chicago, Ill.

A 1984 graduate of Venice High School, the local man joined the Navy in July 1984.

During the seaman's eight-week training cycle he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's basic fields.

Seaman Recruit King's studies included seamanship, close order drill, first aid and marksmanship. Personnel completing the course of instruction now are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene, officials noted.

THOMAS HARRISON

Thomas H. Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. (Kathryn V.) Harrison, of 739 Twenty-Seventh Place, has been promoted to the U. S. Air Force to the rank of senior airman.

Airman Harrison is a radio and communications specialist in the group at Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma.

Tax tips

Taxpayers with tax questions can call Tele-Tax and listen to recorded tax information provided by the Internal Revenue Service.

The recorded information service offers more than 150 information tapes on tax subjects such as filing requirements, itemized deductions, tax credits, dependents, and adjustments to income.

For users of push-button (one signaling) phones, Tele-Tax is available year-round, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. These taxpayers call the local Tele-Tax number found in the tax package, Tele-Tax brochure, and in the free IRS Publication 910, Taxpayer's Guide to Information, Assistance and Publications. By pressing the appropriate numbers on the phone, the taxpayer hears the tax information message he or she wants.

For rotary (dial) or push-button (pulse dial) phone users, Tele-Tax is available year-round during normal weekday business hours. Taxpayers should call the special dial telephone number listed in the previously mentioned publications and tell the IRS operator the number of the tape or topic he or she wishes to hear.

Tele-Tax has been expanded this year to include Automated Refund Information at selected locations. If it has been ten weeks since you mailed your 1984 tax return, we will be able to check the status of your refund. Automated Refund Information will not be available between January 1 and March 15.

Information at selected locations, and the Tele-Tax brochure (Publication 1163) also have lists of topics covered by the tapes. Publication 1163 is available by using the order form in the tax package, or by writing or calling the IRS. The free Tele-Tax brochures are also available at many local banks and libraries, or it may be ordered from IRS.

If a taxpayer calls from outside the local dialing area of any Tele-Tax number, there will be a long distance charge.

Deaf taxpayers in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands can receive special tax assistance from the Internal Revenue Service.

This help is available to taxpayers who have access to TV/Telephone-TTY equipment. Interested taxpayers should contact their local social service agencies to find out where this equipment is located in their area.

The special number for residents of Indiana is 1-800-332-4059. Residents of all other states, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico should call 1-800-428-4732. This special assistance for the deaf is available from 8 a.m. to 6:45 p.m. EST during the regular season, and from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. EST during the nonfiling season.

The IRS notes that these special numbers can only be used in connection with TV/Telephone-TTY equipment.

If you use a part of your home regularly and exclusively for business purposes, you may deduct a part of the operating and depreciation expenses on your home as an itemized deduction, the Internal Revenue says.

If you are an outside salesperson or if your employer reimburses you for these expenses and you include the reimbursement in income, you may deduct the expenses as an adjustment to gross income.

For additional information, taxpayers can order the free IRS Publication 587, Business Use of Your Home, using the hand order form in the tax package.

Group provides support to neurofibromatosis victims

The Missouri Chapter of the National Neurofibromatosis (NF) Foundation, a non-profit, voluntary organization, was formed in July 1984 and now meets at 2 p.m. on the first Sunday of every other month at Barnes Hospital complex, Room 228, in the nurse's residence in St. Louis. The next meeting is scheduled for Feb. 3.

Chapter member Dianne Baker of Granite City says the goals of the chapter are to provide information and assistance to patients and families affected by NF, to provide information on the disorder to health care providers, to promote and support research aimed at finding the cause and cure of NF and to facilitate medical, social and genetic counseling.

In addition to regular meetings, the group sponsors programs on NF and conducts fund-raising events and other activities throughout the year.

Mrs. Baker says NF is also known as Von Recklinghausen's disease, and many people don't know what it is or if they have it.

"NF is an inherited neurological disorder characterized by multiple benign tumors of the peripheral nerves (those closest to the skin), but may affect all parts of the nervous system and skin," she explains. "The tumors can lead to disfigurement, deafness, blindness, dysfunction of many organs, deformity of limbs and sometimes an early death. Learning disabilities, epilepsy, mental retardation and

Amsted profitable but sales, prices still low

Amsted Industries Inc. has reported net income in the quarter ended Dec. 31, 1984, was $7.8 million, or 72 cents per share, up $8.1 million, from the loss of $300,000, or 3 cents per share, in the year-ago quarter. The firm owns the currently-idle American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

Robert H. Wellington, Amsted president, said income increased in all three categories — construction and building general industrial, and railroad products — primarily because of higher sales volume.

He added that modest improvements in selling prices also contributed to the change. Results continue to reflect the impact of cost reduction initiatives of the past three years.

Sales in the December 1984 quarter totaled $158.8 million, up $25.5 million, or 26 percent, from a year earlier. The 1985 fiscal year ends Sept. 30.

Construction and building product sales went up 19 percent to $60.1 million, or 38 percent, from the year earlier. The 1985 fiscal year ends Sept. 30.

General industrial product sales were $47.6 million, up 22 percent, with the main increases in sales of wire rope, piston pins, and filtration and parts handling equipment.

Railroad product sales of $51.1 million rose 38 percent due to higher car repair needs and an increase in the nation's freight car building rate.

Wellington said Amsted's financial position remains strong. Working capital at Dec. 31 was $199.6 million, up 27 percent from a year ago. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 3.5 to 1. The company continues to operate without incurring long-term debt.

Capital expenditures in the first quarter were $3.2 million. Such expenditures are expected to total $22 million for fiscal 1985. This will pay for modest capacity increases and productivity improvements for several product lines, as well as normal replacements.

Amsted's backlog was $103 million — $33 million for construction and building products, $53 million for general industrial products and $17 million for railroad products.

The total backlog is about the same as a year ago. Increases in construction and building products, primarily pressure pipe, offset decreases in railroad products.

For the next quarter, Wellington said the outlook is for results below the quarter just ended, as they normally are because of the seasonal nature of construction and building products during winter.

In the last half of the fiscal year, sales of those products are expected to return to the strong levels of the first quarter and the last half of fiscal 1984.

Industrial product sales should show continued strength for the rest of fiscal 1985, reflecting the economy, he said. Railroad product sales are likely to increase, but the order rate for new freight cars requiring Amsted products remains low compared to historical levels.

Wellington said that, until that order rate improves, railroad product sales increases will be modest. No date has been set, as yet, to reopen the local plant.

At Amsted's annual meeting, stockholders re-elected four directors to three-year terms: Gordon R. Lohman, Amsted vice president; Bert E. Phillips, retired chairman, Clark Equipment Co.; Robert T. Powers, retired chairman, Nalco Chemical Co.; and Wellington, Amsted president and chief executive officer.

Stockholders also approved charter amendments designed to provide for fair treatment of all stockholders.

The board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share, payable March 15, to stockholders of record on Feb. 20.

GC Army Installation to begin study on contaminants

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Following a meeting with Illinois Environmental Protection Agency officials this month, authorities at Granite City Army Installation have agreed to begin a sampling program to determine whether three landfills at the installation are causing groundwater contamination.

According to Keri Luly, community relations coordinator for the IEPA district office, contaminants found in the groundwater during an August 1982 test include arsenic, nickel, fluoride and sulphate. She said the findings were published in August 1983. Monitoring wells were only sampled one time during the test, she noted.

"At that time, the Granite City sewage treatment plant, near the installation, was applying sludge to the ground," she continued. "Now, we no longer apply sludge to the land. We want to go back and see if the contaminants are still there (since the sludge-to-land application has been discontinued)."

Mrs. Luly added that the contaminants found in the groundwater are "quantities below the maximum allowable level."

According to the agreement with the Granite City Army Installation, installation officials must submit a plan to perform the sampling by Friday, Feb. 1. The IEPA then has a week to review the plan. Should the IEPA approve the plan, installation officials must begin the sampling by March 15 to obtain someone to perform the sampling.

Mrs. Luly said the study will be funded by the installation. The IEPA will attempt to negotiate with all site owners to get them to pay for any clean-up expenses, she noted.

The Granite City Army Installation is one of 14 sites listed on the IEPA's State Remedial Action Priority List (SRAPL). Sites on the list have been assigned a clean-up priority, and the agency is attempting "to recover from responsible parties monies spent from state funds for cleanup, whenever possible."
